NEW EMBARGO ON LOANS TO DEBTOR LANDS

America Asks Bankers to Quit Lending to Foreign Cities and Industries

SIX NATIONS AFFECTED

Aim to Check Transfer of Funds from Cities to Federal Governments

(Today's dispatch by David Lawrence presents an exclusive angle of the war debt situation and discloses the lengths to which the United States is prepared to go to compel an agreement with France.)

Washington, D. C. — The United States government has notified private bankers that it would look with disfavor not merely on loans to foreign governments which have failed to settle their war debts with America but on all loans to cities in those same countries or to industrial enterprises owned or partially owned by federal governments.

The embargo on loans, therefore, has been made complete. France, Italy, Greece, Yugoslavia and Roumania are the only countries left which have not yet agreed to settle war debts.

In almost every case with the exception of France a commission is on its way to the United States or the minister here has been empowered to act.

AWAIT ENVOY
The case of France presents interesting aspects. While the new ministry has made no announcement about its policy, considerable significance is attached to the change of ambassadors at Washington. The report that M. Daeschner is being recalled because of the over-optimistic character of his cablegrams before the French mission under M. Caillaux left France are being taken with a grain of salt because it is inferred here that the real reason is that France was desirous of putting a man here much more familiar with finance so as to resume the negotiations quietly. Senator Victor Berenger who is to be the new ambassador is known as a financial expert. The move on the whole is taken as a favorable sign because of the work of negotiating a settlement can be done by an ambassador if he is really authorized to discuss the question with officials of the American debt funding commission.

Meanwhile, the ban on foreign loans will have a profound influence on the French attitude. It must be stated frankly that the American government does not enjoy the process a bit but feels that something vital like the ban on loans is the only way to bring French opinion to a realization of how seriously Washington regards a continuance of the unsettled condition of war debts.

GOOD INVESTMENTS
The loans of French cities are a good investment always and their borrowing in the United States have been considerable. Nothing in the American government's policies affects in the slightest the loans that already have been made, but private bankers although eager to make new ones will not go against the wish of the department of state. It was discovered that some applications for loans amounted merely to a transfer from French cities to the French federal government and that unless the embargo was comprehensive it would be futile.

Similarly with respect to certain public utilities supported by the French government, the loans made would merely have relieved the Paris ministry of certain items in its budget.

The American government feels that there is no real reason why an agreement by France to pay should not be made within the next few months so that the document can be presented for ratification at the coming session of congress. Nine agreements already have been made. Those with Great Britain, Finland, Hungary, Lithuania and Poland have been ratified by congress. Agreements with Belgium, Czechoslovakia and Latvia have been concluded by the debt funding commission and will be submitted to congress for ratification in December.

TAKING DARE ON ICE COSTS THREE LIVES

Kenosha—(AP)—Taking a dare cost the lives of three school boys here just before 11 o'clock Monday morning when Vernon Butcher, 12, Leo Dorff, 11, and Harry Kaplan, 13, all students at the Lincoln school here, were caught under the ice in the lagoon at Lincoln park and drowned.

The lads at recess time were daring each other to see which could go farthest on the thin ice when it cracked beneath their weight and hurled them into the icy waters. A workman nearby saw them struggling in the ice and went as quickly as he could after them but was unable to rescue the boys. Ten minutes later the body of the Butcher lad was found and a half hour after that the other two lads' bodies were recovered. The police worked with pulmonologists on the bodies but were unable to revive a spark of life.

The children had been warned repeatedly against playing on the ice, according to the statement made by Miss Maude Shelton, principal of the school.

ANOTHER DEATH IS CHARGED UP AGAINST DURKIN

Chicago Sleuth, Wounded in Wednesday's Shooting Affray, Breathes His Last

Chicago, Ill.—(AP)—Another death has been charged to Martin J. Durkin, dapper automobile thief and slayer. Sergeant Harry Gray, shot by the fugitive gunman, in his sensational escape from the police trap last Wednesday night died early Monday.

It was the second death in the costly attempt to capture the slayer of Edward Shanahan, government agent. Lloyd Austin, uncle of Durkin's sweetheart, Betty Werner in whose home the ill-fated police trap was laid, died of wounds received in general shooting affrays from which Durkin apparently escaped unharmed.

When news of Gray's death was flashed, police redoubled their efforts to apprehend the "steel vested" bandit, who had vowed that he would not be taken alive.

"The order is still to kill him on sight," said Captain John Stege of the detective bureau. "We're not passing up any clues which may give us opportunity to shoot him down."

Durkin will fight to the last against all the police who can be sent against him and then commit suicide. This information has been given to the police by Betty Werner the sweetheart for whom he risked his neck when he returned to Chicago after the Shanahan shooting.

ELECTION IN GOTHAM HOLDS NATION'S EYE

Detroit, Boston to Elect Mayors—New Jersey, Virginia Pick Governors

Washington—(AP)—Several contests which have attracted wide attention, notably the gubernatorial fight in New Jersey and the mayoralty campaigns in New York, Boston and Detroit, will be settled Tuesday at the polls.

While Tuesday's elections are referred to as general there will be balloting in only 13 states, with statewide voting in only five of these. Besides New Jersey, Virginia will be the only state to elect a governor and in only one other—Pennsylvania—is there a state office at issue, that of judge of the supreme court.

Two members of congress are to be chosen to fill vacancies now existing from the Third New Jersey and Third Kentucky districts. While there is a vacancy in the senate from North Dakota, this will not be filled as Governor Sorlie has declined to order a special election to determine the successor to the late Senator Ladd.

KLAN ISSUE

The mayoralty fight in New York with Senator James J. Walker, Democrat, who defeated Mayor John F. Hylan in the primary, having Frank D. Waterman, a manufacturer and political novice for his opponent probably attracts the widest attention over the country. The bitterest mayoralty contest, however, is that in Boston where ten candidates, seven Democrats and three Republicans are in the field. The Ku Klux Klan figures in the Detroit mayoralty fight in which Mayor Smith is standing for reelection.

Mayors are also to be elected in Pittsburgh, Louisville, Indianapolis and scores of other cities. Besides that at Indianapolis there are 100 such contests in Indiana alone.

New Jersey is to select seven state senators and the entire lower house at the state legislature. Virginia is to elect an entire general assembly. New York is to elect members of the lower house and Kentucky is to select two members of the state house and senate.

BITTER FIGHT
Detroit, Mich.—Featured by the injection of religious and racial issues, one of the most bitterly contested mayoralty campaigns in the history of Detroit was brought to a close here Monday. Election officials estimate 300,000 persons will vote Tuesday at a non-partisan election on whether John W. Smith will be retained as mayor or whether he will be succeeded by Charles Bowles.

Smith was elected a year ago at a special election to fill the vacancy caused by the resignation of Frank E. Doremus an election in which Bowles got his first start in Detroit Politics.

Inactive politically Bowles, an attorney, entered the primary race for mayor a year ago with four other candidates. Joseph A. Martin, then acting mayor, and Smith were supported actively by newspapers for the nomination but in the primary Bowles who had not been mentioned by newspapers and had done little advertising, almost won the nomination. In the election he ran as a "sticker" candidate and was a close third. Bowles then was charged with having Ku Klux Klan support. This year Bowles was the only entry in the race for Mayor against Smith. Although he said in his speeches he was not a member of the Klan, Smith supporters charged Bowles was a Klan candidate and the Klan has openly supported him. In his campaign speeches, Bowles has charged that Detroit was a "wide open" town, and has based much of his campaign on promises to "clean up" the city.

Mayor Smith has based his campaign mainly on his record during the last year.

ENGLISH VOTE

London—(AP)—The elections in 400 English and Welsh boroughs went to the polls Monday to choose about 8,000 municipal councillors to represent them in local affairs, especially in the levying and administering of local taxes, which here are called "rates." These taxes last year in England and Wales aggregated about 142,000,000 pounds.

Political views often largely influence the results of the election. This year, especially in London, the issue was being fought on the question of socialism.

VICTIM AND ACCUSED

D. C. Stephenson, (right) former grand dragon of the Klan in Indiana, together with two others, Earl Klenck and Earl Gentry, is on trial at Noblesville for the murder of Madge Oberholzer, (left) who took poison and in a dying statement charged Stephenson with abduction and assault.

ANOTHER DRIVER LOSES HIS CAR

Joseph Striegel, Drunken Driver Fined $50 and Ordered to Quit Driving

Pleading guilty to a charge of driving his automobile while under the influence of liquor, Joseph Striegel, 1303 N. Richmond-st., was fined $50 and costs and forbidden the use of his car for six months by Judge Theodore Berg when arraigned in municipal court Monday morning.

Striegel was arrested Sunday evening by Officer Carl Radtke after the former had almost run down the officer who was on his motorcycle at the corner of Superior-st and Wisconsin-ave.

Since the passage of the law by the state legislature empowering judges to prohibit drunken automobile drivers the use of their machines for a period not exceeding one year, approximately a dozen automobile owners of Outagamie-co have felt the penalty.

STEPHENSON MOTION TO DISMISS CASE DROPPED

Noblesville, Ind.—(AP)—A motion to set aside the submission and discharge the jury trying D. C. Stephenson, Earl Klenck and Earl Gentry, on trial for the murder in connection with the death of Madge Oberholzer was overruled by Judge Will Sparks in Hamilton-co circuit court Monday.

The motion, filed in writing by defense counsel at the start of the seventeenth day of the trial of the former Ku Klux Klan leader, was based on alleged "prejudicial remarks" made by the court during examination of Levi Thomas a state witness late last Saturday.

It was the second time the defense attempted to halt the trial.

Turks Reported Moving Toward Mosul Frontier

London—(AP)—A despatch to the Daily Mail from Beirut, Syria, says large bodies of Turkish troops are moving toward Mosul from Turkey.

The Daily Express has a similar report. It puts the number of Turks at 5,000 and alleges that the French have given them permission to cross Syria.

The report says Great Britain has protested to the French government. The suggestion is that the French commanders in Syria are favoring the Turkish preparations to check British action against the Mosul boundary.

The Morning Post's correspondent says public security in Syria is nonexistent. A large area around Damascus is in perpetual turmoil and bandit gangs are creating havoc on lives and property. The situation seems quite out of hand notwithstanding the fact that General Gamelin, the French commander, has taken control at Damascus and reinforcements have arrived.

The correspondent adds that a return to anything approaching normal conditions can be achieved only by the introduction of large bodies of

MICHIGAN PREXY ASSUMES OFFICE

Young President from the East, Takes Firm Stand on Checking Intemperance

Ann Arbor, Mich.—(AP)—Dr. Clarence Coolidge, formerly head of the University of Maine, was installed as sixth president of the University of Michigan Monday. Representative of nearly 100 universities, colleges and normal schools all over the country, including the presidents of 23 major educational institutions attended the university. Dr. Little said in his inaugural address, is no place for the study of social problems because the "environment of carefree, financial, vagrant, imitative youth which characterizes our undergraduate groups does not present problems of automobiling, liquor or sex as they will have to be met in later life."

"We cannot train a mind in the development of its highest scholarly powers," he said, "in the atmosphere of a veritable Gettysburg of social activities where after a prolonged artillery preparation of jazz and fast traveling joy rides, a Pickett's charge of 'dates' and petty but absorbing gossip are in progress."

"Overemphasis of and intemperance in automobile use, of liquor and petting among students of our universities must be stopped because it is not the time or the place to investigate or decide these matters."

Dr. Little is 37 years old, the youngest man ever to head the university.

IDENTIFY BODY OF SUBMARINE VICTIM

Newport, R. I.—(AP)—The body recovered by divers Sunday from the sunken submarine S-61 was identified Monday as that of Henry Lee Crawford, radio man, of Ardmore, Okla. Identification was made by means of finger prints, a monogrammed ring and initialed belt buckle.

In connection with the reported movement of Turks toward the Mosul frontier, it was reported in mid-September that 70,000 Turks already had been massed on the Iraq front of Mesopotamia as a means of forcing a favorable decision on the dispute over Mosul between Turkey and Great Britain.

With regard to Syria, the League of Nations has received protests from 25 arab bands over the recent operations of the French, who held a mandate over Syria, against the druse tribesmen and their bombardment of Damascus. In the bombardment approximately one-eighth of the city was destroyed and more than 5,000 natives are reported to have been killed. Both Great Britain and the United States have made strong representations to France against the bombardment. The League of Nations has postponed until February a hearing on the Arab protests.

COOLIDGE IS NOT ON LIST OF WITNESSES

Counsel Will Not Summon President Owing to Certain Legal Impediments

TEXAS SCRIBE ON STAND

Large Number of Federal Aircraft Officials and Civil-ians to Testify

Washington, D. C.—(AP)—Colonel William Mitchell on trial by court martial as a result of his criticism of the conduct of the government's air service Monday asked the court to summon Secretaries Davis of the war department and Vebur of the navy department as witnesses.

Several other high officials of the two departments, several members of congress and more than 60 army and navy officials also were named by the defense in a list of those it would like to question. The name of President Coolidge did not appear on the list.

The colonel and his counsel after assessing the legal obstacles that would stand in the way of a subpoena for the president had made up their minds not to try to summon him.

It was apparent from the colonel's action in seeking to bring cabinet officials and members of congress into the trial that he hoped to thrash out in court the whole range of issues involved in the air controversy and thus present a justification for his charges that the air service had been administered with criminal and almost irresponsible negligence. Whether the court will admit that procedure is questionable.

TO CALL EXPERTS

The army and navy officials for whom subpoenas were requested by the defense included not only those in direct charge of the two air services but those who have general staff supervision over the army and navy organizations as a whole.

In addition, various aircraft experts and other civilians were on the list submitted by the colonel's counsel. They include Donald MacMillan, the Arctic explorer, Grover Loening, the aircraft manufacturer Mrs. Zachary Lansdowne, widow of the commander of the Shenandoah, Rex D. Landis, of Chicago and Anton Hemen, one of the designers of the Shenandoah.

The defense also requested that Secretary Jardine of the agriculture department, Everett Sanders, secretary to President Coolidge, and Dwight Morrow, head of his president's special board be called.

TRIAL STARTS

The court proceeded with the actual opening of the trial without indicating whether it would summon those named on Col Mitchell's list of witnesses. Another motion by Mitchell's had no jurisdiction was quickly rejected. Then the prosecution called to the stand as its first witness A. W. Yeager, reporter for the San Antonio, Tex. Light, to whom Col Mitchell gave a copy of his San Antonio statement containing the accusations that led to the court-martial.

Col. Mitchell's counsel told the court that in asking a subpoena for Secretary Sanders they would seek "copies of all correspondence exchanged between the president and all persons relative to the necessity and reasons for the formation of the president's air board, headed by Dwight Morrow, as contained in the files of the White House executive offices."

OBJECTION OVERULED

Mr. Yeager said the colonel gave him the statement on the morning of Sept. 5. A copy of it presented by the witness, however, was objected to by Representative Reid of Illinois Mitchell's attorney, because it carried marks of "copy reading."

After a long argument between counsel, the court accepted in evidence the prosecution's copy of the Sept. 5 statement excluding all penciled or other marks not made by Col. Mitchell.

The witness then was excused. Col. Mitchell's counsel reserving cross-examination until later.

Lieut. Col. George L. Hicks, adjutant general of the Eighth Corps area at San Antonio, was called. He testified that he had submitted newspaper copies of the Mitchell statements to Col. Mitchell in San Antonio and had obtained from him, in the form of official army correspondence the admission that he had prepared them for publication. Luis Felipe Reinos, reporter for La Prensa, another San Antonio newspaper, testified that he received a copy of the Sept. 5 statement from Col. Mitchell.

TEN THOUSAND GREET GRANGE, ILLINOIS IDOL

Champaign, Ill.—(AP)—A two-mile ride upon the shoulders of his joyous fellow students was the greeting given "Red" Grange upon his return Sunday night from Philadelphia where his university of Illinois football team smeared the university of Pennsylvania squad 24 to 2 upon a muddy field. So enthusiastic was the crowd that they would hardly permit their hero to sleep. The special train carrying the team, 450 rooters and the university band was met by a crowd of 10,000 students and towns people.

After being repeatedly urged to say a few words, Grange almost tongue-tied from embarrassment said "We'd all better had a fine visit down east. I don't know how to thank you fellows for everything but the team derives credit. And we're certainly going to do everything in our power to lick Chicago next Saturday."

WOULD TAX NEAR BEER TO CHECK BOOZE TRAFFIC

House Ways and Means Committee Asked by Treasury to Impose One-cent Tax

Washington, D. C.—A prohibition enforcement officials Monday sought the aid of the taxing power of the government as a means of checking what they described as the "tremendous flood of high powered beer sweeping the country."

A tax of one cent a gallon on cereal beverages was asked of the house ways and means committee by Lincoln C. Andrews, assistant secretary to the treasury in charge of prohibition enforcement. This would afford the government power of inspection of near beer distilleries.

Mr. Andrews said "high powered beer" must be manufactured first by breweries in the process of making near beer and the temptation was "very great not to cut down the alcoholic content."

The assistant secretary also said prohibition enforcement would be aided if the tax of $2.20 a gallon on pure alcohol were cut in half and a tax of one cent a gallon on denatured alcohol were imposed.

Mr. Andrews said he favored the government dealing directly in the sale of sacramental wine and medicinal whiskeys to consumers.

"It will be cut out legalized traffic in liquor for a profit," he argues.

KENOSHA GIRL CHARGES CHAFFEE WITH ASSAULT

Kenosha—(AP)—Leo Chaffee, the Racine man who was arrested in Iron Mountain, Mich., Friday in connection with the murder of James Sears and Madalynne Latimer, is named in a warrant charging assault on a Kenosha girl.

While the probe has failed to connect Chaffee more closely with the murder, it has resulted in his identification by the young woman as the man who, she alleges, halted the car in which she was riding with a Kenosha man, ordered the man to drive the car ahead, took the girl from the car at the point of a revolver and attempted to assault her. She fought her way free and halting another car was brought to Kenosha. Police say that they will continue their investigation of the possibilities that Chaffee was connected with the murder.

DIES IN HOSPITAL

Hammond assisted by two firemen walked to the police station where he turned over the revolver to Chief Hansen. He was then rushed to the hospital where he died two hours later. It was five minutes after the shooting that Anderson died in the office of Chief Hansen. Officers gave assistance to Hammond and later Anderson dying where he fell. Later he was connected with the murder.

PROMINENT OFFICIALS INDICTED IN RUM PLOT

St. Louis—(AP)—United States attorney Curry Monday made public the names of 39 persons including prominent officials and politicians in St. Louis, Indianapolis, and Cincinnati, who were indicted at Indianapolis Saturday by a federal grand jury on a charge of conspiracy in the $1,800,000 Jack Daniel whiskey withdrawal plot.

Included in the list was Imogene Remus, wife of the former Cincinnati bootlegger who has become estranged from him since his release from the Atlanta penitentiary. Remus who testified before the grand jury was not indicted.

Other St. Louisans indicted were Nat Goldstein, prominent Republican politician, Will Kinney, brother of the state senator, Henry Levin, Edward J. Ohare, Daniel Onell, Mike Whalen, John Connors, Robert E. Walker, Morris S. Maltin, Isadore Maltin and Tony Foley.

FINGER PRINT PROVES HE IS CHAPMAN PAL

Thug Dies Fighting at Muskegon Saturday. Fatally Wounds City Detective

NABBED FOR COUNTERFEIT

Arrest Follows as He Passes Bad Bill in Restaurant—Fires on Officers

Muskegon, Mich.—(AP)—The bandit slain here Saturday night, after he had shot and fatally wounded Charles Hammond, city detective, was positively identified Monday as "Dutch" Anderson thug and pal of Gerald Chapman, super bandit.

The identification was made Monday by finger prints of the slain bandit and those of Anderson. Secret service officers who arrived here Monday morning also aided in the identification.

There is no question but it is Anderson, said Peter Hansen, chief of police. The finger prints tell the story while the Bertillon measurements also show it to be Anderson.

Police took the prints of the bandit's fingers as he was dying Saturday night at the station.

Anderson went to his death fighting. So did Detective Hammond, who although fatally wounded wrested the revolver from the bandit and in an alley the shadows of the police station and then killed Anderson with the latter's own weapon.

PASSED BILL

The arrest was made after Anderson, who had $2,200 in counterfeit $20 bills on his person, had passed one for a box of candy at the Colonial cafe. Suspicious of the bill, the cashier sent her brother, Gerald Engalls to the bank across the street. The bill was declared a counterfeit.

Hammond was detailed by Chief Hansen to pick the man up. Hammond and Engalls found him mixing with the crowd on Western-ave, the main business street, and then Engalls pointed him out. "I am not sure he is the man who passed the bill but he was in the store," said Engalls.

Hammond told Anderson to accompany him to the station. He walked along until he was hearing the city hall where the police station is located. Then he stopped a revolver from his pocket and fired. The first shot went wild and struck a store window across the street. The second bullet hit another store window. Anderson ran into an alley at the rear of the city hall. Hammond followed in the face of the gun fire and as he grabbed Anderson, the bandit turned and fired at close range the bullet going through Hammond's lung and liver. Hammond wrested the revolver from Anderson and fired a shot into his body severing the main artery from the heart. Hammond wounded, sagged against the wall as Patrolman George Thompson attracted by the shots ran to him.

"Get him! He got me," said Hammond. Thompson fired a shot into Anderson's body as he tried to rise but it was the bullet fired by Hammond from the notorious criminals own gun that killed him.

Hammond assisted by two firemen walked to the police station where he turned over the revolver to Chief Hansen. He was then rushed to the hospital where he died two hours later. It was five minutes after the shooting that Anderson died in the office of Chief Hansen. Officers gave assistance to Hammond and later Anderson dying where he fell. Later he was connected with the murder.

No Depradations and Little Mischief Here — Police
Were Vigilant

Halloween proved to be a quiet and orderly evening in Appleton. No arrests for "Halloween pranks" were made by the police department, and no destruction of property or other acts of vandalism reported.

A few traffic signs were moved, as were several gates, wagons, park benches, etc., and placed upon people's front yards or porches, but as far as could be learned, no willful destruction of property was done.

Scarcely any windows were soaped. A few were reported soaped in the outside district of the city, but none in the business section. A warning had been issued by Chief of Police George T. Prim before Halloween that anyone caught soaping windows would be placed under arrest. The warning evidently had its effect. Grit and other foreign particles in soap often scratches windows, and it was to prevent any such damage that the warning was issued.

Whether the orderly passing of Halloween is due to the orderliness of Appleton children or to the extreme vigilance of the police department is difficult to determine. Suffice it to say that the same condition of peace and quiet did not exist in other Fox River valley cities, according to reports received here.

The majority of store windows in Oshkosh and Fond du Lac were said to be soaped in a most complete manner. Depradations of various nature were also reported from those cities.

Someone who noticed for the first time Sunday morning that the steeple of the old Methodist church was down is quoted as having laid the blame to "another of those damnable Halloween pranks." The steeple was taken down by workmen last week however, and before Saturday.

SEEK MURDERERS OF 3
PERSONS IN NEW YORK

New York.—(AP)—Search was being made Monday for men who committed three murders Sunday in two places, regarded as speak-easies. Joseph V. Sheridan, saloonkeeper, member of the New York Republican county commission and a former deputy United States marshal, was one of the two men murdered.

Police heard five shots and saw several men rush from the Owl club on W. Forty-seventh street. The "back room" beside the bar was marked by chairs on which cards were spread for a game of solitaire.

Sheridan had a fight last week with thugs in his saloon. He was once a big league player. In the Tyrone social club the bodies of John Hanrahan, one of the owners, and Mrs. Daniel Hogan were found. The man's body was on the floor punctured by six bullets and the woman, who had been shot twice, was in a chair. Police started search for a man who recently completed a prison term for robbing telephone coin boxes.

He did not have the money with him, but promised to pay the fine Tuesday.

When he indicated he was unable to pay his fine, Judge Theodore Derr asked him how he could run a car if he didn't have any money. The youth answered it was his father's car, and that he was just using it over the weekend.

GRANT FELAUER TRIAL BY JURY

Liquor Case Will Be Heard on
Nov. 25 — Enters Plea of
Not Guilty

Henry Felauer, 226 W. Lawrence-st., who was arrested Sept. 30 on a charge of manufacturing and selling illicit liquor, has asked for a jury trial, and his case which was set for Monday has been adjourned until Nov. 25 at which time a jury will be drawn.

Felauer entered a plea of not guilty when arraigned in municipal court Oct. 1. Chief George T. Prim and Detective Sergeant Matthew McGinnis testified in a preliminary examination Oct. 9, that they found a still, 6 gallons of moonshine liquor, and 130 gallons of malt in Felauer's house. Felauer has been at liberty on a bond of $1,000, which he furnished.

The arrest was made on the complaint of Theodore Springer, 865 N. Fair-er who says that he bought a small quantity of liquor from Felauer to use as evidence, as his younger brother Walter Springer had been purchasing liquor from Felauer, and he wanted to put a stop to the practice.

Mr. Springer will conduct the annual installation of officers of the American legion, will be guest of honor at a dinner at 6 o'clock Monday evening at the Conway hotel, given by the executive committee of Onee Johnston post. He is to be present at the regular meeting of the legionaries at 8 o'clock in Elk hall. All members of the post have been invited to the dinner.

Mr. Springer will conduct the annual installation of officers of the legion and will give an address to the Appleton veterans and those from the surrounding community who have been invited here. An entertainment program will be held following the business session.

DUTCH ANDERSON SLAIN
IN MUSKOGON GUN FIRE

It was at first believed that the bandit was Martin James Durkin, notorious Chicago gunman. Anderson had been in the counterfeiting game for several weeks apparently and had flooded Michigan cities with the counterfeit $20-bills, according to secret operatives.

Two weeks ago he entered a drug store at Flint and gave a clerk one of the bills. The clerk, suspecting that the bill was spurious, followed Anderson into the street. Anderson drew his revolver and drove the clerk into the store and then escaped into the crowd. That same day he passed eight bills in Flint, it was reported from that city. Since that time he has operated in other cities of the state.

Anderson had no automobile license card bearing the name of James P. Davis, Argonne Hotel, Lima, Ohio. It developed that he stayed for a time at the hotel in that city and was known as "Curley" Anderson.

ONE PERMIT DENIED, ONE
GRANTED, BY ZONE BOARD

Two cases were considered at a meeting of the zoning board of appeals at 10 o'clock Monday morning at the city hall. The appeal of William Filz for a permit for the construction of a garage was not granted, while that of J. A. Engel for a permit for the construction of a garage was granted.

No action was taken on the appeal of Howell G. Thomas, the board deciding it held no jurisdiction over his case. Thomas is said to have constructed a residence at 55 Belaire-st. this summer not in conformity with specifications submitted when he applied for a building permit. Instead of building his residence seven feet from the lot line, he is said to have built it only three feet from the lot line. The minimum allowed by law is six feet, according to George Peotter building inspector.

C. OF C. BOARD WILL DISCUSS CITY CONTEST

Outcome of the better cities contest of the Wisconsin Conference of Social Work, in which Appleton registered third place, will be discussed by the board of directors of the chamber of commerce at the biweekly meeting at 12:15 Wednesday noon at Conway hotel. Merits of the decision by ten judges will be considered and plans discussed to help raise this city's standards in cases where a real need is shown to exist.

After a year in the prison Chapman escaped. A few months later Anderson also escaped burrowing his way under the walls.

Anderson was well educated, but unlike Chapman he had no scruples against using a gun.

The announcement followed the order of the Minnesota railroad and warehouse commission of a new schedule of fees also effective Nov. 1, and which has been subject to considerable opposition here because provision was made for a change covering protein test on all grain whether asked for or not.

The new Wisconsin fee for inspection and protein test of grain combined is half of the new Minnesota fee for the same service, the Wisconsin charge being 75 cents and the Minnesota charge being $1.50.

THE RELIGION OF REALITY

(The following lecture on Christian Science was delivered by Robert Stanley Ross C. S. of New York at Lawrence Memorial chapel Sunday afternoon. Mr. Ross is a member of the Board of Lectureship of the Mother church, The First Church of Christ, Scientist, in Boston, Mass.)

Jesus was no magician or occult wonder-worker aiming to set aside or nullify God's law. He did not practice mysticism, so-called mental science, nor auto-suggestion in the hope of persuading sick people to believe they were well. He came to reveal and enforce fundamental divine law; to illustrate its utility and availability for his own age and for the ages to come. He proved that this law of God, this law of infinite good, is the law of life, health, and happiness to you and me and all mankind. He demonstrated the supremacy of good, notwithstanding the seeming presence and power of evil. He brought to light out of the realm of spiritual reality, the truth about God and man in much the same manner that heretofore unknown facts in the material realm so-called have been discovered and made available to mankind.

"PEP" PLUMMER

Legion Will Greet State Commander at Banquet and Meeting Following

H. J. "Pep" Plummer of Cadott, commander of Wisconsin department of the American legion, will be guest of honor at a dinner at 6 o'clock Monday evening at the Conway hotel, given by the executive committee of Onee Johnston post. He is to be present at the regular meeting of the legionaries at 8 o'clock in Elk hall. All members of the post have been invited to the dinner.

Mr. Plummer will conduct the annual installation of officers of the legion and will give an address to the Appleton veterans and those from the surrounding community who have been invited here. An entertainment program will be held following the business session.

GOOD EVER AVAILABLE

Christian Science is demonstrating that it is the Christianity of Jesus made practicable today. Now as of old it is showing mankind how to escape from all evil. No matter how long one has been ill, no matter how deeply one may be involved in sin, no matter how heavy one's burden of sorrow, poverty, or care, Christian Science joyfully points the way out—not through death and the so-called hereafter, but here and now. The Bible tells us that the kingdom of God, the kingdom of heaven, is at hand, here, now; that now is the day of salvation; that now are we the sons of God.

REALITY

All of which is in accord with the first chapter of Genesis. There we are told that in the beginning—that is, in the Science and truth of being, in which God declared all reality to be spiritual and good like Himself—perfection reigned universally, and all creation shouted for joy in the infinitude of health and holiness, where sin, disease, and death were unknown. Only in the second chapter, however, we are told that a mist arose and hid from view this ideal state of affairs, after which Jehovah is supposed to have begun immediately to recreate out of the dust of the ground an already perfectly good universe and man. Owing to this so-called mist, man is believed to have been separated from his original perfection and to have become an erring mortal, subject to sin, disease, and death.

Now, if it is true that the mist arose and that because of it man actually fell from his high estate as the divine image and likeness, then sin, disease, and death are of God, hence inevitable; in which event man is their helpless victim. But surely there is nothing in the infinity, the aliveness, of pure Spirit or Mind out of which its very opposite, material belief miscellaneously could be evolved! Therefore, notwithstanding all sense-testimony to the contrary, Christian Science declares with conviction based on proof that matter and its attending disorders have no foundation in fact or Truth, and that God's spiritual, harmonious creation is now and forever the only real creation, in which there has never been any actual departure from not necessarily returning to health and harmony. Mrs. Eddy makes this plain on pages 470-471 of the Christian Science textbook, "Science and Health with Key to the

NORSE DIPLOMAT

COMING HERE TO SPEAK TUESDAY

Dr. Christian L. Lange Will Address Chapel Audience at 10 O'clock

Dr. Christian L. Lange, a member of the Norwegian parliament and one of Norway's representatives in the league of nations assembly since its beginning will speak to Lawrence students at the 10-o'clock chapel period Tuesday morning, according to an announcement made Monday by Wilson S. Naylor, dean of the college. Dr. Lange is touring the United States giving lectures in colleges and universities under the direction of the Institute of International Education. He came to the United States to attend the world congress of the Inter-Parliamentary union in August.

Dr. Lange was born in Norway in 1869, and for a number of years he was a teacher and lecturer in that country. He was secretary of the Nobel peace committee of the Norwegian Parliament, and director of the Nobel Institute at Oslo from its foundation in 1904 until 1909. In 1909 he shared the Nobel peace prize with Hjalmar Branting, the late Swedish prime minister. He represented Norway at the second Hague conference and has been secretary-general of the Inter-Parliamentary union since 1919, and at the same time has been honorary advisor on the history of the peace movement at Nobel Institute.

During the war Dr. Lange was in close touch with the various inter-parliamentary groups, and was among those who strove to effect an international organization for a lasting peace at the Hague. At the close of the war he settled at Geneva as the head of the Inter-Parliamentary bureau with which 30 national groups are now affiliated. He is also an active member of the committees on disarmament, treaty of mutual assistance and the Geneva Protocol.

Dr. Lange will speak on International Cooperation Through the League Tuesday morning at the chapel.

Initiation of several men who have recently been asked into the membership of Appleton Rotary club will occupy the regular weekly meeting

Indeed, if God were directly or indirectly responsible for evil, if He were in any way associated with human suffering, do you not see that the cries of mankind for relief would be useless and that Christian Science or any other method of treatment to which one might appeal for help would be illegitimate? If such were the case, none of us would have a right to get well, and we should not dare try, lest we be found fighting against God. But God does not inflict penalties for human ignorance of Him any more than the principle of music punishes the student who, owing to ignorance of the rules of harmony, makes discords in his playing. Because the remedy for ignorance of anything is education, which destroys that ignorance, God's punishment for human ignorance of Him is not more ignorance in the form of sin, disease, and death, but loving enlightenment, which destroys these errors and ushers in life, health, and happiness. Mankind has only to be awakened spiritually to see both the unreality of evil by which it has been deceived and the unchanging perfection of God's universe and the real man. Through this open door a disillusioned world will be only too glad to escape from evil and its torments.

SURVIVORS GET $617,000 FROM RISK COMPANIES

Largest Single Life Insurance Policy Paid in Appleton in 1924 Was $31,000

Payments made by life insurance companies to beneficiaries in Appleton during 1924 totaled only $167,000, according to the special edition of The Insurance Press, an insurance news paper. The largest single payment made in this city was $31,000, but the name of the person owning the policy was not given.

The largest payments made to beneficiaries in any one Wisconsin city was Milwaukee where the total reached $3,000,000. The smallest total payments total $57,000, was made in Watertown. Insurance paid to beneficiaries in other cities of the state were Green Bay, $228,000; Oshkosh $449,000; Mosinee, $750,000; Fond du Lac, $198,000; Sturgeon Bay, $81,000.

The largest single payment in the state in 1924 was made to the beneficiaries of Olaf Basche Wisla, paper manufacturer of Mosinee. He was insured for $726,000, a large part of which was for the benefit of paper corporation of which he was president and general manager.

Other large policy claims in Wisconsin were:

Bruno V. Nordberg, Milwaukee, $250,000; Frank J. Lintner, Milwaukee, $135,000; William Beveridge, Milwaukee, $75,000; Sigmund Baehr, Milwaukee, $55,081; Adolph Graner, $42,500; Granville D. Jones $1,375.

The largest claim in this country and Canada, $1,442,732, was paid to the beneficiaries of Henry M. Byllesby of Chicago. The grand total of payments in the United States and Canada exceeded one and a half billion dollars.

Grand total—$1,518,786,750.

In 56 cities life insurance payments in 1925 exceeded $1,000,000. Greater New York leading with $42,500,000 followed by Chicago with $23,500,000 and Philadelphia with $16,100,000. Detroit came next with $7,226,000, Pittsburgh followed with $7,100,000, Boston had $6,992,000, and St. Louis $6,866,000.

The second largest payment in 1924 on a single life was the insurance of Leopold Miller of Houston, Texas, which was $752,500. Samuel Marshall Evans of Essex Falls, N. J., received $740,000. Julian B. Huff of Haverford Pa., $600,000.

Among the men of national prominence whose names appear in the list of life insurance payments in 1924 are the following: Joseph E. Willard, former ambassador to Spain, $226,000; Henry C. Wallace of Des Moines, former secretary of agriculture, $135,000; Herman Henry Kohlman, former newspaper publisher, $199,336; Martin H. Glynn, former governor of New York, $357,464; Julian S. Carr, former commander of the United Confederate Veterans, $113,368; Samuel Gompers, $250; Ralph L. Spotts, New York City, former American trap shooting champion, $175,000; George Randolph Chester of New Rochelle, N. Y., writer of short stories, $175,000; Oakley C. Curtis, former governor of Maine, $175,000; Barney Bernard, New York City, actor, $103,251; Ferdinand H. Beck, long known as the oldest native resident of Chicago, $215,798; Edward B. McCall, New York City, former Supreme court justice, $95,000; Victor Herbert, New York City, musical composer, $84,400.

The late William Jennings Bryan is reported to have carried at one time $10,000 of life insurance in level premium companies and about $12,000 in fraternal orders. The late Samuel Gompers had only $250 of life insurance, a pathetically small sum, being the benefit to which he was entitled as a member of the International Cigar Makers Union, of which he was one of the organizers.

For many years his physical condition had made it impossible for him to obtain insurance. Julius Fleischmann, the wealthy yeast manufacturer who died while playing polo last February, was insured for approximately $1,500,000.

The use of insurance to protect business organization as far as they can be protected in a monetary way against loss by death, of a valuable executive, is an established practice of firms and corporations.

Individual insurances of $1,000,000 and over have become increasingly common in recent years, until at the present time it is estimated that there are at least 200 such large policies. For the most part these policies are taken out to cover inheritance taxes on estates or are purchased by corporations to protect themselves against loss through death of an important executive.

Among the largest insurances written in 1925 was $8,750,000 on the life of William Fox, president of the Fox Film Corporation, which increases the film magnate's total coverage to upwards of $6,500,000. A policy for $3,000,000 is reported to have been taken out this year by the Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer Studios on the life of Ramon Navarro, motion picture star. Life insurance of $1,000,000 was recently placed on Cecil B. DeMille, for the benefit of the Cinema Corporation, the holding company for the Cecil B. DeMille Pictures Corporation.

Classy Lather Mugs No Longer Decorate Racks In Tonsorial Parlors

A shave, haircut and shampoo—all for "four bits." Yes, one could get all these repairs in the old days, say 15 or 20 years ago, when men kept their own shaving mugs and fancy handled razors at their favorite barbershop, and when one could go into a shop most any time of the day and night and find it open for business. But how the times have changed in the last score of years. No more shaving mugs, fancy handled razors, and no more complete overhauls for only "four bits."

In the old days the regular barber shop patrons took a great pride in owning their own shaving mugs, and having them displayed in all their glory on the rack which was a regular fixture of all barber shops. If one wanted to find out a man's vocation all he had to do was go to the barber shop and find his shaving mug. Butchers liked to have a picture of a steer's head on their lather mugs and often accompanying the head of the steer was a design of a meat cleaver, or a long steel knife.

Railroad engineers had a picture of a locomotive on their "shaving stein." One Appleton barber tells of a heavy man who had a shaving mug on which was painted a picture of a horse pulling a hack. Another barber tells of a former Appleton horse race promoter, named George Spencer, who had decorated his shaving mug with a realistic picture of a horse tearing around a race track pulling a sulkey on which was perched the driver, presumably Spencer himself. Those who could afford it had their names put on the shaving mug in fancy gold leaf letters. A first class mug of this kind cost the enormous sum of $3, and its owner regarded it as one of his most precious possessions.

HAD 125 MUGS

Frank "Pete" Kingsbury, who conducted a barber shop on S. Appleton-st for many years was reputed to have the largest and best collection of shaving mugs in town. He still had about 40 some 15 years ago, when the mugs were starting to wane in popularity, but he had space on his rack for 125 lather cups, and the rack was well filled when the mugs were all the rage.

Back in the good old days of barbering, many men left their own razors and their shaving mugs at the barber shop. The owners of these "face scrapers" prided themselves on the fancy razor handles, and one of the favorite handle designs was a representation of an ear of corn. Other razors had fancy pearl or ivory handles.

One common object found in the shaving mugs of olden day was a cosmetic stick. This would be a strange and unknown article "to modern Young men, but to the be whiskered and bearded sheiks of long ago it was indispensable. The cosmetic stick was a kind of greasy preparation to be rubbed over a moustache and produced the same effect as the modern oils and greases used in slicking hair tight to the head, and making it glisten.

Shaving tickets were sold at barbershops at 15 cents for a dollar. Facial massages were unheard of. In fact the entire bill of fare at a barber shop consisted of haircuts, shaves and shampoos. The shampoo was rather a crude operation compared to the shampoo of today. Sometimes the barbers had to heat their rinsing water on a small stove, and some times didn't heat it at all but just took a pitcher full of cold water and poured it over the head of the victim. The modern spray for shampoo rinsing was far in the future. Another method of rinsing the head was to sponge out the soap with wet towels.

Barber shops were kept open from 7 o'clock in the morning until midnight, and on Saturday nights the shops were open until 1 or 2 o'clock Sunday morning.

One attractive feature of the barber shops of olden days which the modern shop has discarded was the tobacco box, always kept filled, from which the patrons could fill their pipes. Many barbers used to make

FRESHMAN ADDS NAME TO LIST OF PRESIDENTS

In correcting papers written by Lawrence college freshmen in a recent quiz given to the composition classes, Prof. F. W. Chippinger found the following:

Benedict Arnold was a priest who did much translation work many centuries ago.

Joseph Addison was a president of the United States.

Maude Adapis was a famous author. She and Addison were also important people during the time of the early colonies at the time of George Washington.

Hans Christian was a Danish explorer.

Pasquale Amato was a Spanish author, and an Italian leader, and merely a Frenchman.

Aristotle was an old scientist.

their own hair tones and shaving lotions, and a great variety of unique concoctions were invented in this way. Some were good for the hair, and others weren't so good.

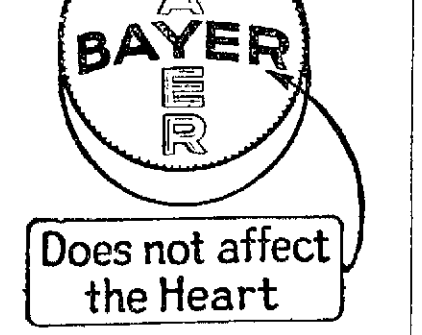

Barber chairs used to be two piece combination affairs. One piece was the main part of the chair while the other was the foot rest, an entirely detached and separate piece of furniture.

Sea Foam was the name of a favorite shampoo mixture used many years ago. It was a liquid which when rubbed into the scalp formed a light foamy lather but with continued rubbing the foam subsided and the shampoo was over.

It was said that women taking possession of the barbershop during the last three or four years of the hobbed hair craze has greatly raised the moral standing of man's former exclusive sanctuary, and that the barber shop as a gathering place for long story telling sessions is a thing of the past.

To Whiten "Off-Color" Teeth

and Firm Gums to healthy color, quickly, as dentists advise

HERE is a simple test that proves the truth of the recent dental statement that dull, "off color" teeth can be lightened amazingly, even given dazzling whiteness.

In a few days you can work a great change in the color of your teeth. Can give them clear and charming gleam.

There is a new way in tooth and gum care. A way that removes the dingy film that clouds your teeth. A film that absorbs discolorations and keeps teeth dingy looking.

Just run your tongue across your teeth. And you will feel that film. It is the great enemy of pretty teeth and healthy gums.

It clings to the teeth, gets into crevices and staves. It forms a breeding place for germs. It lays your gums open to bacterial attack, your teeth open to decay. Those germs with tartar are the chief cause of poor teeth. Old time methods failed in success fully light up film. So ugly teeth were common. You must remove it. Ordinary brushing won't do it satisfactorily. Under it are the clear, white teeth you envy in others.

Now modern science has perfected an effective film combantant called Pepsodent. It acts to curdle film, then remove it. It firms and protects gums, beautifies teeth quickly and correctly.

Mail coupon for full 10-day tube to try or purchase large tube at any drug store. Note the amazing difference in your teeth, in your whole appearance.

NEW DEAL IN LEADERSHIP
We read that renewed efforts are being made to continue the Republican organization set up at Oshkosh for the recent memorable senatorial campaign. It is stated in one account of this activity that "a potentially formidable organization" is being effected, with the 1926 campaign immediately in view. The principal object of this organization, it is announced, is to support Senator Lenroot in his candidacy to succeed himself; also, to nominate a complete state ticket and to make a fight for the eleven congressmen to be elected next year. In this connection, a long statement has been issued by the leaders of the Oshkosh conference, explaining the desertion by themselves and Senator Lenroot of the candidate chosen at the Oshkosh convention for United States senator. This document is intended to set the organization right with the voters of Wisconsin, who were so thoroughly disgusted with the political fiasco that it was generally predicted they could no longer be interested in efforts of the Old Guard to revive stalwart Republicanism in this state.
We have read this statement and cannot see that it alters the situation, or what occurred in the late lamented campaign in the least. Mr. Wilcox was clearly deserted by the organization which opposed him in the beginning, but which could not prevent his nomination at Oshkosh. It makes no difference whether he was deserted because of his religion or because of other alleged weaknesses. The events of those few days in which he was side-tracked will rank in stupidity and comedy with anything that has ever taken place in the annals of Wisconsin politics. Blunders of the famous committee of forty-eight were as nothing compared to this farce.
We do not believe the people can have any confidence in a political organization which handled an election in this way. We do think there is a great deal of Coolidge sentiment in the state, but we do not believe it can be marshalled for expression by a group of discredited politicians, no matter what their pretenses or excuses may be. As for helping Senator Lenroot, that is attempting the impossible. Mr. Lenroot politically is beyond help, in our opinion, and certainly by this Oshkosh group. We have no expectation that he will be a candidate for reelection. The probability is he will be taken care of with an appointment by the federal administration before he is compelled to make a final decision.
There is no use to attempt to resist the Blaine organization until we have a brand new deal and brand new leadership of those forces opposed to the mal-administration of Wisconsin's government and to the radicalism of the present order. Moreover, this movement must come from those who are soundly progressive in their political ideas, which means for the most part a genuine approval of the policies and type of national government embodied in Calvin Coolidge.

REGULATING AUTOMOBILE LIGHTS
A number of years ago the legislature enacted what was known as an anti-glare law for the further regulation of automobiles. For a few weeks after this law was enacted, whether in the interest of public safety or of lens manufacturers, there was great activity by the enforcing authorities. Owners of automobiles were required to equip their machines with lamps that would at least approximate the requirements of the law. After this flash in the pan, the law was forgotten and became a dead letter. It has been as dead as a doornail ever since. No more attention has been paid to it by the authorities, local and state, than if it did not exist.

There is a movement in Milwaukee county to revive the enforcement of the anti-glare act. A conference has been held between the committee on highways of the Industrial commission, with a view to having established by each village, town and city a testing station, at which a motorist can have his lamps tested to see if they conform to the law. In case they do not it is planned to give him five days in which to have the deficiency corrected and to supply him with a list of garages where this work can be done in a manner that will insure approval. Similar steps are being taken at Madison.
We do not know what jurisdiction the Industrial commission may have in the premises, but if it has any it is derelict in its duty of enforcing safety laws. The anti-glare act has been a huge farce. The responsibility must lie with the state's executive authorities. One thing is clear: Either the law should be enforced or it should be repealed. If it is without merit or its merit is debatable it should be taken off the statutes. If, on the other hand, it has any real value for promoting safety on the public highways, it should be enforced and enforced to the letter. The non-enforcement of a law of this character tends to bring into disrepute all laws.

SHOULD A MARRIED WOMAN TAKE HUSBAND'S NAME?
Should a married woman take her husband's name?
Ultra-modern theorists used to debate this question academically, but now it threatens to become practical.
You read a notice something like this: "Mr. and Mrs. Andrew Robinson announce the impending marriage of their daughter, Miss Jane Jones, to Baron Hugo von Winkelstadt. Miss Jones will be remembered as the beautiful Miss Wilson, former wife of Hendrik Janson, whose divorce from Lieutenant Roberts of the marines was the sensation of society a few years ago. She has just been granted her interlocutory decree from her present husband, Dr. Durand, whom she married last year after divorcing young Percy Montgomery, son of the Wall street banker, with whom she eloped immediately after the separation from Lieutenant Roberts. The marriage with Baron von Winkelstadt will take place immediately after the decree becomes final, next October."
Now, in a case like that, what is the lady's name? If she keeps any of the same friends, from chapter to chapter, they must have something continuous to identify her by.
Apparently there is nothing continuous but "Jane." And actually, during the last post-war reaction of the same sort, after the French revolution, that was what they had to do.
There was a woman writer in Berlin, in the early part of the last century, who had so many successive legal names that literary historians were at a loss which one to call her by, after she was dead. They finally compromised on her first name, "Annie."

TODAY'S POEM
By HAL COCHRAN
QUIET-ZONE
Two little youngsters stand out on the street, an' they're askin' folks to please be still. Just like an officer, walkin' his beat, 'cause their buddy's inside—and he's ill.
They're watchin' and waitin' an' talkin' real low, an' they peek in the house now and then. The feel that his buddy's well's draggin' on slow, an' they want him back with them again.
The doctor approaches and greets both the boys, and he tells them there's really no fear. "You fellows are helpin' by stayin' all noise, and I'll sure tell your buddy you're here."
"Say, Doc," comes reply, "do the best ya know how, to help get our pal back in trim. Our football team's waitin' to play, an' somehow, we can't get along without him."
Just two little youngsters stand out there alone and watch, 'stead of kavin' their play. The home of their buddy's a strict quiet zone, 'cause their youngsters have made it that way.
If I were the youngster there, sick in his bed, I feel that I'd find it quite hard to find better friends when it's all done and said, than the two little pals, standin' guard.

EXCESSIVE GROWTH OF HAIR
Hypertrichosis, as we doctors call it, incidentally betraying at the outset our limited knowledge of the nature of the disease—is in English excessive growth of hair. Hypertrichosis affecting the scalp seldom becomes a health problem, except in rare cases (rare nowadays) where Mrs. Gamp opines that the clipping of a girl's hair will somehow conserve her strength or help her recover from some illness, a superstition which uneducated people take seriously.
It is when the face, neck, chest, back, arms or legs present a visible growth of hair—and when the normally visible down of a woman's skin takes on excessive growth it is pretty sure to show nowadays—that hypertrichosis becomes a health problem, primarily, and a beauty problem only secondarily.
I repeat that we have no definite knowledge of the general or systemic causes of this excessive growth of hair, further than the observation that is often associated with some ductless gland disturbance, particularly suprarenal gland deficiency and corpus luteum deficiency. There is no evidence, however, that any special treatment of the ductless glands or with ductless hormones has any influence upon superfluous hair. Neither is there any evidence that the use of any particular cosmetic cream or grease is likely to cause the down to take on heavier growth and become noticeable. We just do not know why superfluous hair happens.

LET WELL ENOUGH ALONE
The girl who discovers, on closely scrutinizing her complexion, that her skin is covered with fine down, is wise if she resists the moving mug invitation to "destroy" the hair. A great army of women who have had bitter experience could assure her that it is far better to let well enough alone.
Of course, there are various methods which may be used to remove superfluous hair, but only two known ways which will destroy it so that it will not grow out, again, and these two ways are by electrolysis (electric needle) and roentgen (X-ray) treatment. The X-ray treatment is not safe enough for cosmetic purposes and is therefore employed by physicians only for the destruction of limited growths of hair as in certain moles and sometimes in patches of ringworm.
There is a tremendous amount of chicanery and humbug perpetrated by self-styled beauty doctors, dermatologists and the like, in the treatment of superfluous hair with electrolysis or some form of X-ray or both. The woman who seeks honest treatment will submit such a problem to the reputable physician or surgeon, who may not promise as much as the fakers do, but who will deliver the same standard of treatment which people generally receive from properly qualified doctors. If the number of hairs to be destroyed is very large, the practical difficulties involved in this use of the electric needle make even moderate success impossible unless the unlimited patience and the physician both have unlimited patience to persist in a prolonged and tedious campaign. There is, however, little risk of scarring from electrolysis in the hands of the trained physician or surgeon, however unfortunate the victim of the blatant quack may be in this respect.
Medical skin specialists who have had experience in the use of X-ray for superfluous hair conclude that, if the exposures are kept within safe limits the growth of hair is reduced in about half of the cases treated, and that the method should be used only in extreme cases and with the full understanding that improvement is altogether uncertain if the exposures are kept within the bounds of safety.

QUESTIONS AND ANSWERS
Mushrooms
We are very fond of mushrooms and can easily get them from the woods, but we cannot take them from the foodstuffs and we are afraid of poisoning. (C. C. B.)
Answer—Perhaps you will find a good illustrated book in your public library which will help you to distinguish edible from poisonous mushrooms, or write to the agricultural department, Washington, D. C., for a pamphlet about mushrooms. Copyright National Newspaper Service.)

THE BEST MAN
"Miss Lucile Rife as flower girl carried a basket of roses and sweet peas. Mr. Robert Jones of Alton wore a frock of pink georgette and acted as best man."—Lancaster, Pa., News.
He probably acted as best he could under the circumstances. Anyway, it must have been the best act of the play.

Remember how fussed you were the first time you entered a ladies' barber shop in the big cities? Well, every barber shop is a ladies' barber shop now.

All the girls envy the girl who married the head barber and now doesn't have to wait for her turn.

FABLES OF 1925
A street laborer entered the barber shop Friday afternoon just as the high school girls' rush was on. He ran his fingers through his hair to fluff it up a bit and then permitted the barber to assist him into a chair. After the haircut the barber handed him a mirror and the patron inspected the job. "Good gracious!" he gasped, "you took off too much in the back, and you know that coat of haircut doesn't match my profile!" Three finicky high school girls left in disgust.

Isn't it a peculiar coincidence that on the eve of All Saints' day all the little devils of our terrestrial domain let loose?

Here is a Halloween poem which reached us too late Saturday morning to get into the column. It was written by an 8-year-old school boy. You will agree that it is better than some poems written by grownups.

HALLOWEEN
Fall is here,
Halloween is near,
The ghosts are glaring,
The pumpkins are staring.
Windows are soaped,
Our mothers provoked,
And fathers are mired,
Because we're so bad.
We have lots of fun,
And the cops make us run,
But we boys must play
On this Hallow day.
By John Clayton, Third grade, Lincoln school.

Well, John, you may call it a "hallowed" day or "een," whatever you choose, but just the same, we think you had a lot to confess when you said your prayers Saturday night.

The Question Box
When in doubt—ask Haskin. He offers himself as a target for the questions of our readers. He agrees to furnish facts for all who ask. This is a large contract—one that has never been filled before. It would be possible only in Washington, and only to one who has spent a lifetime in locating sources of information. Haskin does not know all the things that people ask him, but he knows people who do know. Try him. State your questions briefly, write plainly, and enclose two cents in stamps for return postage. Address The Appleton Post-Crescent Information Bureau, Frederic J. Haskin, Director, Washington, D. C.

In addition to this large quantities were landed by small boats and also received from the Pacific Coast and other sections and imported from foreign countries. In September, 1922, the quantity of fish shipped from Boston, according to a survey for that month, amounted to 12,006,396 pounds, which was probably about an average month.

Adventures In The Library
By ARNOLD MULDER

THE STEVENSON CRYPTOGRAM
There is a book on the fall list, "The True Stevenson: A Study in Clarification," by George S. Hellman, that purports to throw an entirely new light on the secret life of the author of "Treasure Island." Whether or not the reader agrees with Mr. Hellman's conclusions will depend on his attitude toward R. L. S. and those who surrounded him during his creative years.
In blunt words, Mr. Hellman suggests that Stevenson was under the thumb of his wife and that during his later years he chafed under the restraint and felt that he had sold his soul to the devil—the devil in this case being Mrs. Stevenson whose intentions were entirely good and who wanted nothing so much as success for her husband. Only she wanted success as represented by fame, money, the world's good will; he wanted to write as his artistic conscience dictated even when he should thereby forfeit the world's regard.
The story has often been told of how Stevenson wrote a novel in the realistic manner about a street walker which would have alienated his admirers who worshipped him as a romanticist and how Mrs. Stevenson, fearing for the safety of the Stevenson legend, throw the manuscript into the fire. I don't think authenticity of the story has ever been positively established, but Mr. Hellman seems to believe in it.

CRYPT SUGGESTED
Among the things Mr. Hellman has done in his new book is to suggest the existence of a cryptogram in Stevenson's work. R. L. S., according to Hellman, could not write what he pleased because of his family and so he incorporated his sense of shame and degradation in stories that on the surface are more stories but that underneath are allegories of his own life, hoping that long after he was dead the world would discover the real meaning of the stories.
There are several of what Mr. Hellman calls "cue stories," because Stevenson put the word "cue" into the titles. There is "The Waif Woman," a Cue—from a Saga. This was not published until 1916, two years after Mrs. Stevenson's death. Mr. Hellman asks why it was kept hidden by Mrs. Stevenson. His answer is that it was because the story would tell the world too much in allegory from about Stevenson's bitterness at being forced by his family to betray his artistic ideal.
Much more familiar than "The Waif Woman" is "The Bottle Imp," which Hellman also calls a "cue" story. It is in reality one of Stevenson's best known stories and was published during his lifetime. However, its title in all the editions of Stevenson's work was merely "The Bottle Imp." Recently it has been discovered, however, that Stevenson's original title for this story was "The Bottle Imp: a Cue From an Old Melodrama." The subtitle was suppressed—Mr. Hellman thinks at the instance of Mrs. Stevenson. The autobiographical character of the story is not readily seen and has never been pointed out, but Mr. Hellman draws quite an elaborate parallel between Stevenson's secret life and the narrative.

AN APOLOGY
He thinks Stevenson told his real thoughts in "The Bottle Imp," that in reality it constitutes an apology for his life. Just as in the old days scientists who made discoveries were compelled to tell the world about them in allegories for fear that the church would burn them at the stake, so Stevenson was forced, according to Hellman, to put his real thoughts in the form of autobiographical allegory to pass the censorship of his wife.
The theory is interesting. Whether it is true is quite another matter. There is a certain plausibility about it and it makes Stevenson a much more interesting human being than the legendary Stevenson who was only a kind of grownup edition of a romantic schoolboy. If the cryptogram theory is true Stevenson was not merely a romantic with almost superhuman courage; he was a suppressed realist who was suppressed only because he was lacking in courage. But that he understood his own degradation is at least in his favor.

The Only Clouds He Can See on the Business Horizon

YOUNG AMERICA ON MARRIAGES
Arthur Corning White, in The American Review.
Older people do not realize that the moral standards upper class men now demand of the girl they marry have changed profoundly in the last 10 years. Young men have admitted girls to a position of equality in all fields.
What both intelligent young men and girls making a marriage contract demand today is not chastity but congeniality, a sympathy in intellectual interest, esthetic tastes and general social point of view.
The typical Victorian marriage was consecrated by economic interest, a blind desire for parenthood, a chivalric but pathetic illusion, or by just plain unsatisfied sex. Perhaps by a combination of all these.
And according to the opinion of most of my young friends, a sorry institution it was! After the honeymoon, there remained only business for the man and the raising of children for the woman. The absence of a genuine union for the purpose of realizing common interests begot at best, in the course of years, a certain tolerant ennui.
It is a mistake to suppose that the instinct for parenthood is any weaker in our elect youth of today than it was in our respected grandfathers. Students tell me they want children. They will have them when they want them, not before and not often.
They will have no more than they can care for, and these they will rear more intelligently than our own parents reared us.

The party was one of the most successful ever held at the local "Y" according to officials, and helped to keep the boys from more mischievous pursuits during the evening. John H. Pugh and A. P. Jensen of the association staff were in charge.

She Could Never Have Done It With Piles!

Bless the American girl who has glorified all the sports! She makes a pretty picture in the water, and is a plucky swimmer, too. Piles are unthinkable for active women. If you have them, you ought to know this simple thing to do!

At any hour or moment that you have the least distress or discomfort from piles, use a simple Pyramid pile suppository—and go happily on your way! The worst hemorrhoids, even bleeding and badly protruding piles respond at once to the soothing suppository applied in perfect privacy. But bear the name in mind; Pyramid is the one every druggist has, usually the only one he will sell his patrons. Pyramid is marvelous! Why suffer another single half-hour with painful piles?

Sixty cents the box, the world around. But for price, a free box plainly wrapped will be sent those who write Pyramid Drug Co., 200 Pyramid Bldg., Marshall, Mich.

LEGION GRIDMEN READY TO QUIT

LAPHAMS DEFEAT KAW LEGION, 6-0

Champion Football Team Heavily in Debt — Highs Preening for Appleton

Kaukauna — Kaukauna's football teams split the weekend with a win and a loss. The high school team defeated the Two Rivers eleven 19-0 in a good game and the American Legion crew lost to the Milwaukee Laphams 6-0.

The city has probably witnessed the last game to be played by the Legion team, amateur state champions for five years, as the crowds for the last few weeks have been getting poorer and poorer until the Legion has gone way into debt. Just enough money was made Sunday to clear them and they will probably quit playing now unless some means is devised to put it on a better financial footing.

A fair sized crowd attended the high school game but the crowds at these games have fallen off also. The game Saturday was the last home game of the season and ends the football season in Kaukauna. Only one game remains that will interest people following the local squads and that game will be the biggest of the year when the local high school travels to Appleton next Saturday where they will attempt to defeat their ancient rival Appleton high. Appleton has not won a game this year while Kaukauna only lost one. This is probably the chance that the local school has been waiting for some time and people seeing both these teams play feel confident that when the two teams lock horns next Saturday on the new Whiting field that Kaukauna will top the score.

WILL CULL HENS AT CHICKEN SHOW

University of Wisconsin Man Engaged for Exhibition at Farmers Fair

A professor from the University of Illinois has been engaged to give a poultry culling exhibition, either in front of the farmers elevator, if the weather permits, or otherwise in Corcoran's hall. This will be a feature of interest to all farmers, as at this time of the year the poultry is always culled and the poor layers picked from the good ones. The professor will show the farmers how to accomplish this.

CLINGS TO LIMB FOR HOUR AFTER PLUNGE IN MIRE

George Schoenrock Is Injured and Suffers After Hunting Accident

New London — George Schoenrock of this city, who was on a hunting trip from this city, had a narrow escape from drowning while hunting near Mosquito hill on Sunday afternoon. He was trailing rabbits in a swamp near the hill, when he fell through the ice over a spring and sank into quickmire at the bottom. In falling into the water he clutched at an overhanging limb. In so doing he dislocated his right shoulder. His frantic cries for help brought no response, as neighbors residing nearby thought that it was only some hunter yelling for his dogs.

After being in the water for more than an hour, Mr. Schoenrock finally managed to work his way out by the aid of the limb, and went to the home of Curt Rogers, a block away. He was taken to a doctor here, and after being given ether, had his shoulder placed back into joint. He has a stiff and painful shoulder and suffered slightly from the exposure.

COP WHO SHOT MAN NOT HELD

Commission Takes No Action Against McClellan for Wolf-rath Pursuit

Special to Post-Crescent
New London — Motorcycle Patrolman Everett McClellan went off duty Saturday, Nov. 1, the date at which this position on the police force is abandoned each year.

Midnight Saturday marked the end of any opportunity for the police and fire commission to dismiss McClellan following the shooting affair between the officer and Ed Wolf-rath here a short time ago. Whether the members of the commission had any such intention is not officially known.

McClellan, although criticized by many during the excitement which followed Wolf-rath's escape from jail and a shot in the leg, has been justified by many after the affair had cooled down. Many who criticized him at the time for using poor judgment have since changed their opinions, and now uphold and praise him on the grounds that he merely performed his duty in upholding law and order. Gulbransen Week

Nov. 3rd to 16th

An Invitation

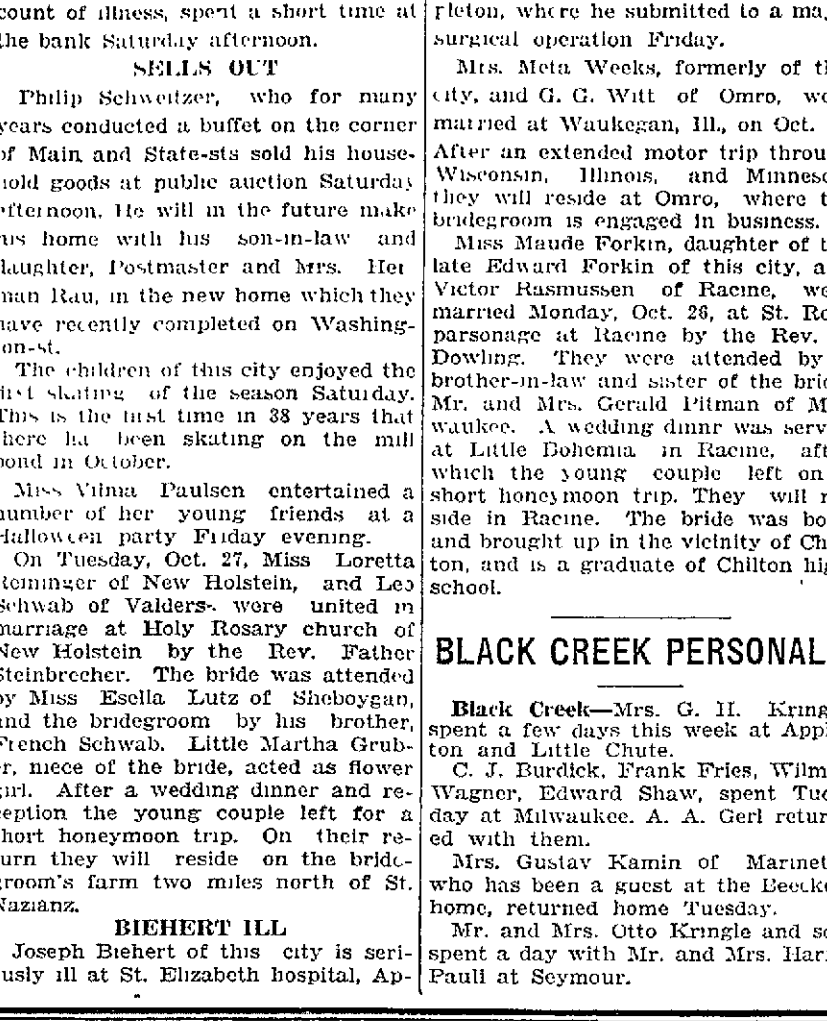

THE term "player-piano" has been discarded as applied to roll-played, foot-power instruments of Gulbransen manufacture. They are "Registering Pianos"—"Gulbransen Registering Pianos"—far superior to and capable of musical expression never even thought of in connection with "player-pianos."

While the transition of the Gulbransen has been gradual — spread over a period of years—it may today be classed as a new innovation, on account of its fidelity to hand-playing and the ability of anyone to play it with personal "touch" and expression.

During the period from November 3rd to November 16th we are making a special showing of the Gulbransen Registering Piano. We do not ask you merely to HEAR it; we ask you to PLAY it. An Invitation

THE term "player-piano" has been discarded as applied to roll-played, foot-power instruments of Gulbransen manufacture. They are "Registering Pianos"—"Gulbransen Registering Pianos"—far superior to and capable of musical expression never even thought of in connection with "player-pianos."

NOW ITS THE "OXFORD BAGS" FOR COLLEGE YOUTH

Who said Chinese faces are expressionless? The American sailor in the background has told a joke to these coolie boys and apparently they see the point. The picture was taken at Shanghai.

This picture testifies to the introduction in America of the "Oxford bags" and also to the truth of the proposition that musicians as a class, are just the sweetest dressers.—The young gentlemen in the picture, reading from left to right, constitute a belt orchestra playing in the Los Angeles belt.

GREET HARWOOD ON HIS RETURN FROM CAPITAL

Banquet Is Held in Honor of Churchman Elected Moderator—Gets Roses

Honors were accorded F. J. Harwood, newly elected moderator of the National Council of Congregational churches, by parishioners of the First Congregational church Saturday and Sunday. He returned Friday evening from Washington, D. C., and was given a banquet Saturday evening, and recognition and a bouquet of roses at the morning service Sunday.

The diningroom of the church was filled to capacity for the banquet and Dr. J. S. Reeve, senior deacon, acted as toastmaster. Three of those at the Washington meeting were called upon for talks. Dr. H. E. Peabody, pastor, and G. E. Buchanan were the first to speak and described the honors which came to Mr. Harwood as the highest official of the Congregational churches of America. They also related some of their personal experiences. Mr. Harwood then responded to a toast, expressing his appreciation of the banquet and telling his impressions of being tendered such a high position.

At the morning worship Sunday Mr. Harwood was called upon to give a short talk. When he arose to speak three little children, Frank Harwood Orbison, his grandson, Mario Thomas and Helen Boyer walked down the aisle carrying a basket of roses which was presented to him. The congregation arose and gave him a chautauqua salute. The Appleton churchman spoke briefly declaring that he had a difficult task in his new office as moderator and appealed for the help and prayers of the members.

Thirteen new members were received into the church at the morning service and one infant was baptized. Communion service also was conducted. Carlos Furlminger, an Appleton young man who is a member of the United States marine band, played cornet accompaniment to the organ at the morning and evening services and also gave a solo at the motion picture session in the evening. The band plays here Monday evening and he arrived Saturday to spend the weekend with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. H. S. Furlminger. The young man attended the Congregational church for a number of years.

An audience of about 450 attended the evening gathering when the motion picture, "Twenty a Week" was shown. Dr. Peabody's sermon pointed out the moral of the picture that "all things work together for good among those who love God."

Mr. Harwood expects to leave Tuesday for Brooklyn N. Y. where he will speak at a large anniversary gathering of the Congregational church there of which Dr. Torgival Huset is pastor. He will return before next Sunday as the Appleton delegation will give its report of the Washington conference at the morning service. The pastor Mr. Harwood and Mr. Buchanan and Dr. John W. Wilson are expected to speak.

MENASHA LOSES TO KISSEL KARS BY 12-0 SCORE

Pail City Crew Has One Opportunity to Score When Schultz Intercepts Pass

Menasha—Kissel Car football team of Hartford defeated the Menasha Athletic association team, 12 to 0, at Recreation park Sunday. Lambert, quarterback of Kissel Car team, scored the first touchdown on a wide run around left side of the line. Gould held a drop kick for the extra point but failed. The score at the end of the first quarter was Kissel Car 6, Menasha 0.

Menasha showed considerable improvement over the team which traveled to Oconomowoc two weeks ago. The line held the opponents for downs on the 5 yard line on several occasions.

In the second quarter Kissel Car opened with a pass from Lambert to Gould, who ran 50 yards for a touchdown. J. Eifert, tight tackle for Kissel Car, dropped back to try a kick for extra point, but failed. End of the first half, Kissel Car, 12, Menasha 0.

In the third quarter Menasha made a strong bid to score when Schultz intercepted a forward pass and ran 40 yards to his opponent's 20 yard line before he was downed. Menasha made its first down but lost the ball on its opponent's 6 yard line. This was Menasha's only real opportunity to score.

In the fourth quarter the game was evenly played, both teams making many unsuccessful attempts to pass. The Menasha lineup included Wirtz, Metoxin, Bando, Makofsky, Wintz, Krause, Nissenbaum, Summers, Walter and Stanley Sokol, Zaelke, Prunusko, King and Benjamin John. Left end: M. Mueller, left tackle: R. Loos, right guard: C. Eifert, right tackle: E. Mueller, right end: Lambert, quarterback: J. Eifert, Vothos, fullback: L. Loos, left half.

The field was in excellent condition and a large crowd was in attendance. The game was highly satisfactory from the standpoint of clean playing. Arrangements are being made for a future game at Hartford on Thanksgiving day.

On Sunday Nov. 8, the Menasha Athletic association team plays Sturgeon Bay on its home field.

Bad Pass in First Quarter Gives Berlin Its Only Score of Game

Neenah—Neenah ended its 1925 football season with a 26 to 7 win over Berlin on the latter's gridiron Saturday afternoon. Neenah scored in every period and outplayed the Berlin squad at every turn. TWIN CITIES WILL FIGHT CAR LINE ABANDONMENT

Neenah—Neenah and Menasha will object to the proposal to abandon interurban car service in the two cities. This was decided Saturday evening in a joint meeting of committees appointed by both councils. In making this decision the cities will not take active part in the hearing but will be prepared to give their views against the discontinuance of interurban service.

STOLE MONEY BOX BUT IT WAS EMPTY

Neenah—The residence of Henry Owens, 18 Franklin-ave, was entered Saturday evening between 6:30 and 7:30 by unidentified persons who ransacked drawers and closets in an effort to locate valuables. The place was entered by removing a screen from one of the windows leading to the front porch. The family was absent at the time. The only article missing was a tin strong box in which money was kept but it was empty at the time. No clew has been found.

POLICE HAD LITTLE WORK ON HALLOWEEN

Neenah—Halloween passed off very quietly in Neenah according to reports from police headquarters. No property was damaged, no arrests were made other than picking up a party of young boys who were engaged in hauling somebody's wagon to the Kimberly school grounds. The boys were taken to the police station and given a reprimand by police officers. Several girls throwing tomatoes into halls of homes were reported.

LETTER FROM LESLIE PRES-COTT TO MRS. WALTER BURKE, CONTINUED

"I have found," I told him, "the imprint of the scar on the palm of Zoe Ellington's right hand. I have often seen it there."

Bill Laddlaw, who is near-sighted, snatched the magnifying glass from my hand, and looked carefully at the paper on which this imprint was photographed.

"Are you sure she has this scar on her right hand?"

"Perfectly. I have not only seen it, but felt it when I shook hands with her. It looks as if a piece had been taken out. It is her hand all right."

"But Laddlaw," Jack interposed, "Leslie told me last night that Zoe in her presence had put her pearls in the safe and locked it. The imprint could have been made at this time."

"True," he answered. "We will put this aside until we find it fits into something else."

Laddlaw questioned Dawson, the chauffeur, very closely, for Benson the butler let out accidentally that the chauffeur was fully dressed when he went to the garage to walk him and that he unhesitatingly went almost directly to where the electric wires were cut.

Jack is delighted over this because from the first he has thought that Dawson was connected with the robbery. He was for having him arrested at once, but Bill Laddlaw cautioned patience.

While we were talking in the library, Benson came to the door and told me that a man from Roth and Chapman was calling.

I left the two men and walked across the hall to the drawing room where Benson had seated him. He was an absolute stranger to me, but that did not seem peculiar at the moment.

Before I could ask him his business, the man arose.

"I have been sent by Roth and Chapman, Mrs. Prescott, to find out if the thieves that broke into your home defaced any of the beaded silk on the walls of your library," he said. "By lucky chance we were able to get a little more of it this morning and we will keep it for you. They are not quite sure, however, that the background is the exact shade and they sent this sample with me that I might compare it."

As the man said this, he started for the library. But was stopped by hearing Jack's voice.

"I think, Commissioner, that your theory is more sensible than any I have heard yet. Let's try and follow it up."

"Oh," he said quickly, "I did not know you had guests. I will call again."

Before I could ask him to leave the sample with me, he was gone.

Adventures Of The Twins

MOVIELAND

"Which hill did your last button fly over?" asked Juggle Jump of the cook.

"That one," said Puff pointing to a high hill in the distance, that looked like a mountain.

"Then that's the way we shall go," said Juggle Jump. "Come, Twins." And off he started, doing a goose-step in his anxiety to be gone.

The Twins said good-bye to the Fairy Queen, thanking her for her tea, and promising to find as many of Puff's buttons as possible.

Then they followed Juggle Jump, who was moving very fast by this time.

If they hadn't had the magic shoe which the Fairy Queen had given them, they never would have been able to keep up. But the magic shoes were so marvelous that each step they took moved them forward about a hundred yards.

Before many minutes the three travelers stood on top of the hill over which Puff's button had gone.

"I thought so," said Juggle Jump, soberly, nodding his head up and down like a China mandarin. "This is the Land of the Movies. That button couldn't have come to a worse place."

ORANGE CREW SMOTHERED BY POWERFUL BAYS, 33-0

ZUIDMULDER IS STAR AS CHAMPS TROUNCE LOCALS

Red Grange of Conference Runs Wild Over Macmen to Garner 3 of 5 Touchdowns

ends, shooting off tackle, hurling and receiving passes, long and short, the big Red and White captain had a field day here and turned whatever hopes the Orange had of victory into despair soon after the start of the game. His interference, however, was well and once he got past the criminal line he needed no help to complete his runs. His headwork and ability to recover a broken field fooled the Appleton backs time after time. Once during the game he carried an Orange kickoff 50 yards for a marker, but one of his mates clipped an Orange player and the ball was brought back and a 25 yard penalty added.

ORANGE IS OUTPLAYED Appleton never threatened the East side goal line and was outplayed from start to finish, securing only one first down on a 12 yard pass on the next to last play of the game. The Macmen battled hard the entire game, but the Bay backfield was not to be stopped. Rammer, Orange star at breaking up passes, was removed near the start of the fray with a wrenched shoulder, and his absence seemed to take the heart out of the Appleton backfield when the Baymen opened up their last passing attack. Zuidmuller scored three Bay touchdowns and kicked three points for 21 of his squad's points. Appleton held the Baymen to work three times to carry the ball over every time it was within the four-yard stripe, but with four downs to make four yards, the Red and White were not to be denied.

Without Capt. Zuidmuller, the Bays had but slight advantage over the locals, but the punting of Becker was also a great aid. The big center shot the ball over the Orange goal line several times on kicks. McGuire, Sargent were the biggest aids in the Bay backfield and Saunders and Bokoski played nice games at the ends. Substitutions went into the game so fast they were hard to keep track of. After Green Bay had run up a commanding lead, he sent in man after man and Coach McAvillie made several substitutions in an attempt to stop the powerful rushes of the Red and White. Green Bay piled up yardage at will and Appleton, as in previous games failed to show any real offensive power whatsoever.

FIRST QUARTER Appleton won the toss and chose to defend the west goal. Becker kicked off to Steenis who was downed on his own 20-yard line. On the first play Steenis threw a pass to Pfefferle for a 2-yard gain. Johnston was stopped at the line. Johnston punted out of bounds at the middle of the field.

Zuidmuller shot off left end for 3 yards. Murphy found a hole at right tackle for 5 yards, but Green Bay was offside and the ball was brought back and the Bays lost 5 yards. On the next play Zuidmuller shot a 135 pass for 10 yards to Saunders, but Saunders fumbled the ball and Appleton recovered on its own 49-yard line. Johnston hit right end for 2 yards, but the ball was brought back and Green Bay lost another 5 yards for offside. Johnston again took the ball and went off right tackle for a yard. Johnston punted out of bounds on the Green Bay 25-yard line.

Sargent lost a yard at the right side of the Appleton line. Zuidmuller broke through the same place for 7 yards, and Appleton took time out when Rammer was hurt on the play. Rammer injured his arm seriously and was taken from the game. Strutz replacing him at right half. Murphy hit right tackle for 6 yards for the initial first down of the game. Zuidmuller added 6 more on an off tackle smash. Sargent gained 2 yards on a crossback but was hurt on the play. East Green Bay took time out. Sargent was carried from the field with a bad knee which had bothered him last year also.

Reynolds went in for Sargent at fullback. Zuidmuller gained a yard at left guard, and the linemen measured the distance, but Green Bay did not make first down. On the next play McGuire worked a smash through center for first down. Zuidmuller was thrown for a 2-yard loss at left end. McGuire shot a long pass to Murphy which was good for 10 yards. Zuidmuller made 5 yards through left guard, and Murphy made 3 more through the same place McGuire failed to gain, and it was fourth down on Appleton's 23-yard line. Zuidmuller went around right end for 5 yards and first down. Murphy carried the ball out of bounds and the ball was given to Green Bay at the center of the field. On an attempted pass half of the Appleton line broke through and threw Zuidmuller for a 6-yard loss before he could get rid of the ball. McGuire's attempted pass was blocked by 3 Appleton forwards just after it left his hand. Zuidmuller completed a 33-yard pass to Bokoski, who carried the ball to Appleton's 4-yard line. Appleton held on the next play, and the second straight try at the Orange line was again held up. On the third try Zuidmuller crawled over for a touchdown. He added another point on a place kick. Score, East Green Bay 7, Appleton 0.

SECOND QUARTER When the ball was put into play, Murphy gained a yard through left end. Zuidmuller shot a long punt over the Appleton goal line and Appleton took the ball on its own 20-yard line. Johnston started around right end, but slipped and was downed without a gain. Johnston was stopped at the line. Johnston reversed the field and ran 50 yards for a touchdown. Liebenbacher blocked Zuidmuller's try for the extra point. Score, East Green Bay 13, Appleton 0.

Steenis kicked off to Brunette who brought the ball back to his 42-yard line. Murphy hit right tackle for a yard. McGuire's long pass was knocked down. Zuidmuller fumbled but recovered the ball and tore around left end for 3 yards. Becker then punted over the Appleton goal line but the ball was brought back and Appleton was penalized 3 yards for offside giving Green Bay first down on Appleton's 38-yard line. Zuidmuller shot a pass to McGuire who slipped and dropped the ball with a clear field ahead of him. Zuidmuller's pass to Murphy was wild. McGuire, with two Appleton men covering him, shot a pass to Zuidmuller for 9 yards.

McGuire worked another quarter-back sneak for first down. Murphy gained 2 more yards at left tackle on a crossback. Zuidmuller made it 2 more on the same kind of play. Murphy shot a pass but it was intercepted by Strutz on the Appleton 27-yard line. Steenis hit center for 4 yards. Johnston's rush for the line was stopped. Johnston punted to the Green Bay 44-yard line where Ashman downed the ball.

McGuire carried the ball out of bounds. Zuidmuller shot a short pass to Murphy for 3 yards and Murphy carried the ball 6 yards more. Murphy hit right tackle for 2 yards. Zuidmuller gained 3 more at left guard. Murphy shot a pass to McGuire for a 7-yard gain. Zuidmuller tore around left and craved three Appleton tacklers on a 35-yard run for another touchdown. His kick for goal was good. Score, East Green Bay 20, Appleton 0. The loss of Rammer seemed to take the heart out of the Appleton team. Rammer was the Orange's star at totaling up passes.

Steenis kicked out of bounds and the ball was brought back to be kicked over. Packard kicked off to Zuidmuller who again reversed the field and ran 80 yards for another touchdown. The ball was brought back and Green Bay received a 25 yard penalty for clipping, bringing the ball on its own 35-yard line. The touchdown was not counted.

Krabbe replaced Lieben at right guard, and Witke went in for Captain Steenis in the backfield. After one play in which Green Bay was punted up at the line Zuidmuller kicked over the goal line and Appleton took the ball on the 20-yard line. On the first play Kitzinger tore around left end for 5 yards. Strutz was stopped at left tackle. Johnston punted to Green Bay's 45-yard line where the ball was downed. Jannish went in for Saunders. Green Bay left end and Murphy tore around right end for 5 yards, and Zuidmuller shot a 35-yard pass to McGuire who made 2 more at right end. McGuire's rush was stopped at the line. Wolfgram went in for Haag at Appleton's left guard. A Green Bay pass was incomplete as the half ended. Score: East Green Bay 20, Appleton 0.

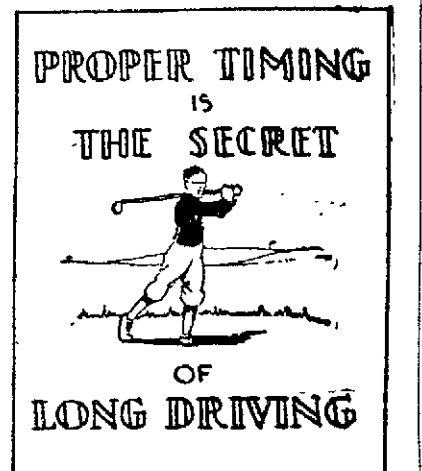

THIRD QUARTER When the third period opened Zuidmuller was not in the lineup. Bays replacing him. Klyns went in for Murphy. Saunders went in for Bokoski and Pfotenbauer went in for Steele. Becker kicked off over the Appleton goal line and Appleton took the ball on its 20-yard line. Steenis hit right tackle and was downed without a gain, and Kitzinger was halted at right end. Johnston punted from his 5-yard line and Pfefferle downed the ball on Appleton's 49-yard line.

Baye was stopped without a gain. McGuire made 3 yards through left tackle. McGuire shot a long pass which Liebenbacher tried to intercept, but he dropped the ball. Baye went through right tackle for 7 yards. Becker's pass was wild and Krause was tackled for a 15-yard loss. A long pass was incomplete and Schumacher kicked out of bounds on Appleton's 25-yard line.

Steenis, who was back in the backfield, was stopped but Green Bay was penalized 5 yards for offside. Johnston lost a yard at right end. He then punted and Kitzinger downed the ball on Appleton's 48-yard line. Krause gained a yard at the line but Baye was injured on the play. Green Bay took time out. Krause shot a long pass which Kitzinger intercepted and then fumbled. Another long pass from Krause was incomplete. McGuire shot a long pass which bounded off Baye's chest. Becker punted over the Appleton goal line, but the Green Bay did not recover offside and Green Bay was penalized five yards. Becker gained a yard bounder to the Appleton 5-yard line.

Lawrence Squad Takes Easy Win At Hamline, 12-0

GOLF As Champions Play It

Should a player try to flog the ball in his attempt to get distance?

BY JOHNNY FARRELL Cuban Open Champion, 1924 It is a mistake for the player to flog the ball in his attempt to get distance. The thing to strive for in getting distance is the proper timing: a slow even backswing, putting the power into the stroke at the impact and not at the top of the downswing. Cyril Walker is a great example of the proper timing. He has a very slight build but still gets great distance.

and a Green Bay man fell on the ball. Witke again went in for Capt. Steenis. On the first play Appleton was stopped and Johnston punted from behind his goal line to his own 42-yard line where a Green Bay man fumbled the ball and Appleton recovered. Kitzinger lost 2 yards at right end. Queoff went in for Klaus. Appleton again was stopped and Johnston punted to Queoff who was tackled at the Green Bay 37-yard line.

Baye broke through the left side of the line and went 7 yards before he was stopped by the Appleton backfield. McGuire ran into his interference and gained only 2 yards at right end. Reynolds went 2 yards for first down. On the next play Queoff fumbled the ball and recovered but Ashman broke through and threw him for a 3-yard loss. Queoff then gained 3 yards at left tackle. Becker punted to Kitzinger who fumbled but recovered only to be stopped by a perfect tackle by Queoff with only a 4-yard gain as the quarter ended. East Green Bay 20, Appleton 0.

FOURTH QUARTER Green Bay sent back its regulars into the game. Strutz was stopped at center, but he gained two yards at left guard on the next play. Zuidmuller went off right tackle for a yard. A pass, Zuidmuller to Murphy, gained 4 more. Murphy was run out of bounds on the play. Zuidmuller then piled up 5 more. On a crossback he then zigzagged past three Appleton men for 4 yards. Murphy was held at the line. Zuidmuller shot a pass over the line which was grounded. He shot a pass to Saunders for 10 yards and Saunders went 4 more to Appleton's 33-yard line where Kitzinger playing safety got the tackle. Appleton held on a line plunge and then Murphy took the ball out of bounds on the Orange 1-yard line. Zuidmuller was stopped in his tracks.

Packard injured his back on the last play and Appleton took time out. On the next play McGuire hit center for exactly a yard and another touchdown. Zuidmuller's try for the extra point was wide. Score, East Green Bay 26, Appleton 0.

Krabbe went in for Lieben. Packard's kick was out of bounds and the ball was brought back to be kicked over. Holtermann went in for Pfefferle and Schultz went in for Packard. Johnston kicked off to Murphy who returned to Green Bay's 34-yard line. Zuidmuller broke loose again and shot 40 yards around right end evading practically the entire Appleton team. McGuire then tore around left end for 23 more putting the ball on Appleton's 12-yard line. Murphy hit right tackle for 4 yards. Zuidmuller carried the ball around left end for 4 more, and Murphy added 2 more for first down on the Appleton 2-yard line. He then gained a yard at center, and on the next play he fumbled the ball but recovered without a gain. McGuire shot a long pass to Saunders who caught it behind the Appleton goal line without an Orange man near him. Zuidmuller's place kick for goal was good. Score, East Green Bay 33, Appleton 0.

Johnston kicked off to McGuire who was downed on his own 42-yard line. On a fake play Zuidmuller gained 3 yards, but he was stopped on the next play at right end. McGuire went around right end for 11 yards. Zuidmuller slipped and was stopped at right end. Murphy was halted at the other end. McGuire attempted a pass but two Appleton men broke through and threw him for a 16-yard loss. Necker sent a high punt to Kitzinger who was tackled in his tracks on his own 10-yard line. A pass, Johnston to Ashman, was completed for a 12-yard gain for Appleton's initial first down of the game. Another pass was incomplete as the game ended. East Green Bay 33, Appleton 0.

THREE LEADERS HOLD PLACES IN VALLEY LEAGUE

East High Takes Easy Win but Tailenders Give Fondy and West Squads Bad Scores

Table with 2 columns: Team, Score. Includes East Green Bay, West Green Bay, Fond du Lac, Marinette, Sheboygan, Appleton, Oshkosh, Manitowoc.

SATURDAY GAMES EAST GREEN BAY 33, APPLETON 0.

West Green Bay 7, Manitowoc 6. Fond du Lac 7, Oshkosh 6. Marinette 7, Sheboygan 3.

East Green Bay easily retained its lead on first honors in the valley conference grid race Saturday by wallowing Appleton 33-0, but the other two leaders had their hands full to keep pace with the Red and White grid men. The team from the West Bay just squeezed through with a one-point 7-6 win over the tallied Manitowoc high squad, which seems to improve each game, and Fond du Lac played the same trick on another tailender, Oshkosh, doped to be easy meat for the Bikerites. However, traditional rivalry made the game a fight in this case. Marinette kicked Sheboygan out of fourth place and moved itself up behind the leaders in another close win. The Johnsonmen were doped as easy victors but Sheboygan gave them a battle royal.

Fond du Lac — Fond du Lac high school defeated the team from Oshkosh High school Saturday, 7 to 6 in the annual homecoming game. The powerful Oshkosh eleven held Fond du Lac scoreless in the first half. Oshkosh was the first to score in the third period when Reetz ran across the goal line. He failed to kick. Five minutes later Fond du Lac carried the ball within 30 yards of the Oshkosh goal. Hutchins passed to Purcell, who crossed the line. Fond du Lac won when Brunet kicked the goal. Fond du Lac retains its lead in the Fox River Valley conference.

Manitowoc — Brilliant play by Manitowoc almost turned defeat into a tie here Saturday when West Green Bay High won from Manitowoc Saturday, 7 to 6. Although outweighted, Manitowoc outplayed the opponents the greater part of the contest and was rewarded in the final quarter.

In the first period Hanson of Green Bay intercepted a Manitowoc pass and ran eighty yards for a touchdown. The Manitowoc rally came five minutes after the final period started when forward pass netted 40 yards followed by consistent line plunging which carried the ball over the line. McConnell failed to kick goal.

Both teams played hard football and battled for every foot gained. Hanson's run of 80 yards and Peppard's playing for the locals were the outstanding features.

Saturday's Grid Scores

WYCOFF ONE OF BEST BACKS IN THE SOUTH

One of the best backs in the south this season is Doug Wycoff, captain of the Georgia Tech eleven. He's fast, a hard line-plunger and great on the defense. He also does the booting for the Atlanta aggregation, his long kicks playing a prominent part in the game of the Golden Tornado.

Crippled Pipers Unable To Stop Attack Of Blue Backfield In Poor Game

Rod Ashman, Steensland and Ott, New Blue Line Recruits, Play Bang-up Football

Lawrence college entrenched itself in second place in the Midwest conference with an outside chance to finish with leaders Saturday when Coach Mark Catlin's Blue and White eleven eased themselves through their third Midwest game of the season and third Midwest game of the season and won handily 12 to 0. way of a championship team but because Hamline was exceptionally weak the Big Blues were not called upon to do their best. The Lawrence men were content to score via the drop kick method with one touchdown to taper off the day's workout.

Beloit and Cornell triumphed in the other Midwest games over the week-end and both lead the league with perfect scores. Monmouth also has a perfect record but has played only one game. If Lawrence can beat Beloit Cornell will lead the conference although it is probable that someone will take a fall, out of the Mt. Vernon school before the curtain falls on the season. If such a thing should happen victory over Beloit would leave Lawrence with the league leaders. The Blue and White arrived in St. Paul Saturday after an all night ride on a sleeper and were in the best physical condition. But tip-top physical condition was not necessary as the game proved to be only a workout. Hamline has been exceedingly unfortunate this season as regards football.

HAMLINE IS CRIPPLED Injuries, have hit the Pipers the hardest. Many of the men who went into the Lawrence game were ailing while Capt. Sweringer was in the hospital earlier in the week with an injured vertebrae. He played for several minutes against Lawrence. Others of the Piper eleven have also been troubled and Coach Carlson was forced to make numerous substitutions to keep his greatest strength on the field. And when the Blue and White departed he had several more men added to his injury lists among them McMann, flashy little quarter.

Lawrence kicked off to Hamline to start the melee and when the Pipers punted after failing to make downs the Blue and White immediately began to show its superiority by working the ball into Hamline territory. Penalties prevented the Catlinmen from scoring immediately but on another invasion Briese negotiated a kick from placement for the first score of the game. As the quarter ended the Catlinmen were again deep in Piper territory.

To open the second quarter Nason attempted a dropkick from the thirty yard line but the ball went wide. A few plays later Catlin sent Heidemann to quarter for Bloomer and a passing attack which rained footballs was opened. However, the assault was slow and uninteresting, reminding one of a regular weekly scrimmage. Hamline was either spoiling the passes or the gains were small so that the attempts seemed futile. The Blue attacking power seemed to slow up only the running of McMann. Hamline kept keeping the game in interesting.

NASON GETS LONG KICK Near the close of the period Heidemann got off to a long run and run that put the ball on the Hamline 30 yard line and on the right side of the field Nason then went back and scored a pretty dropkick from a difficult angle. The ball was on the 30 yard line but due to the angle traveled about 47 yards. It was probably one of the longest dropkicks ever scored by a Lawrence eleven and was the longest seen on the Hamline field. The period and half ended a few minutes later.

Briese kicked off of bounds twice on the kickoffs which opened the third quarter and the ball went into play on the Hamline 40 yard line. When the Pipers opened up on passes Nason intercepted one. About the second play Nason stopped back and tried his third dropkick of the game. The kick was poor and the ball fell short. Hamline put the ball in play on the twenty yard line but punted immediately.

Zussman ran the ball back ten yards. Briese made five yards off tackle. Nason followed with seven and then ten. On the next play Nason tossed a short pass over the line of scrimmage to Briese who waltzed 20 yards for the only touchdown of the game. Nason's kick was wide. Lawrence 12 Hamline 0.

Just before the quarter ended, Hahn Hamline, went into the backfield when McMann was injured was hitting the Lawrence line for substantial gains and woke up the Blues to the fact that there was a football game on. Play after play by the big backfield man carried him through the Lawrence line. The final period of the game was uneventful although Nason was breaking off tackle for from ten to twenty yards at a clip. Several times he looked as if he might get away for a touchdown but in ever instance ran afoul the Hamline secondary defense. The final whistle found Nason finishing a twenty yard sprint off tackle. Briese and Nason were the backfield stars for Lawrence with the latter having the edge with his ok tackle smashes. Briese was handicapped

KUTSCH OF IOWA IS ALL-ROUND STAR

Speaking of star backs, don't overlook Nick Kutsch of the University of Iowa eleven. Kutsch so far this season has been one of the leading lights on the Hawkeye machine. He's a runner, passed and punter, too.

Saturday's game was a surprise to the Blue and White in one manner. Hamline boasts a fine field and a concrete bleachers but only a corporal's guard was in attendance. The fact that the Wisconsin-Minnesota game was running in competition may have taken the Piper crowd. Lawrence tried to have the game played Friday or Saturday morning but the Hamline officials could not see it that way and as a result learned a costly lesson.

There is a tendency to have Hamline dropped from the Blue schedule too, because of the comparatively poor showing the Minnesota school has made in recent years. It is the belief of many Lawrence men that there are other schools in the conference that would draw better and of better position. The meeting of the Midwest league this winter may see Hamline missing from the Lawrence schedule.

Table with 2 columns: Lawrence, Hamline. Includes players like Ashman, Steensland, Ott, Hiple, Premo, Counsel, Bayer, Bloomer, Zussman, Briese, Roettcher, and substitutions.

Factory Seal The Cigar That Pleases 10c At All Cigar Stands

Don't Let The Winter Scare You Polar Solves Your Winter Radiator Troubles ONE of the most vexing problems confronting the motorist today has been in finding a satisfactory anti-freeze solution for his radiator. In POLAR we have an anti-freeze solution embodying every good feature desired at an extremely low cost. POLAR is non-explosive, non-inflammable and non-poisonous, thereby eliminating the usual hazards the motorist is subject to while using other solutions. The fact that POLAR has a higher boiling point than water makes it more cooling for the motor than other solutions, which means that less oil will be consumed and there will be less danger of burning out a bearing while using POLAR than with other anti-freezing solutions. After your radiator has been POLARIZED it is no longer necessary to run into the service station or garage every day or two to have your radiator solution tested to make sure that it will not freeze. Once you have filled your radiator with POLAR it should last the entire winter with ordinary running. KAUKAUNA HIGHS WHIP TWO RIVERS IN NICE BATTLE

Farwell-Gonyo Passing Combination Features 19-0 Victory for Fighting Smith-men

Special to Post-Crescent
Kaukauna—Playing in fine style, Coach William Smith's Kaukauna Tigers defeated Two Rivers here Saturday afternoon in the last home game of the season 19-0.

The Two Rivers eleven played a hard game making the Tigers fight for every inch of ground they covered. The Two Rivers line played an exceptionally good game. Gessil, Two Rivers, right end played a fine game getting tackle after tackle and he was so successful in calling the Kaukauna plays that for a great part of the game the locals boys used the huddle system of calling signals.

One feature of the game that helped Kaukauna to score was the passing of Coach Jack Farwell and the fine receiving of the passes by Niel Gonyo, end, who played a stellar game Saturday. Gonyo beside catching five passes that netted from 15 to 30 yards each recovered a fumble on Two Rivers 45 yard line and raced to the 3 yard line before being tackled. Then he was called into the backfield and he carried the ball over the goal on the first down.

Two drop kicks made by Quarterback "Valley" Kilgus in the last quarter also helped swell the score. The first came from the 35 yard line and was dropped from the out of bounds line for one of the nearest drop kicks ever seen on the local field. This drop bettered the one made by Kilgus in the Menominee game when he dropped the ball over from the out of bounds line at a distance of 23 yards. The second drop came a few minutes later from the 25 yard line.

Two Rivers received the ball on their own 49 yard line and carried it for two first downs and on the third were unable to make their gain. Kaukauna received the ball on their own 30 yard line and plunged the ball to the 12 yard line where Kilgus called a pass and the ball went over the goal line and was given to Two Rivers on the 20 yard line. Hunt kicked for Two Rivers. The ball was downed on Kaukauna's 49 yard line. Kaukauna plunged down the field with Verbeeten, Macerorie and Farwell making big gains and Farwell plunged over for the first marker. Kilgus place kickers.

Two Rivers received on their own 29 and completed a short pass for 1 yard on the first down. On the next play Two Rivers was penalized 15 yards for unnecessary roughness. Findl pointed and Kilgus recovered on the Kaw 49 yard line. The ball ended with Kaukauna marching down the field steadily toward the Two River goal.

SECOND HALF
Two Rivers kicked to Kaukauna's 30-yard line and Kilgus punted on the fourth down. Two Rivers punted on the third down and Kilgus recovered on the Kaukauna 41 yard line. With one yard to make on fourth down Farwell was called back and punted behind the Two Rivers goal line. Two Rivers lost the ball on downs and Kaukauna plunged the ball to within one foot of the goal line where Two Rivers held for two downs and Kaukauna lost the ball on downs. Hunt made a pass and Kaukauna recovered on the 28 yard line. Kaukauna was penalized one down for not having the backfield five yards back of the line of scrimmage. Two Rivers received the ball after Kilgus' try for a drop was carried wide by the wind.

Two Rivers fumbled and Gonyo scooped up the ball and carried it to the three yard line where he was called into the backfield and crashed over for a touchdown. The try for a place kick was missed.

Two Rivers received and made one first down on a long pass. They punted and a poor kick netted them only 15 yards. Kilgus punted and ten of them on the backfield. Farwell carried the ball down the field and Kilgus made a pretty drop from the 35 yard line.

Two Rivers received on their own 30 and on the first play Boyd intercepted a pass and Kaukauna carried the ball to the 25 yard line where Kilgus dropped another over making the counts 10-0. Kaukauna kicked to Two Rivers 5 yard line where the ball was fumbled and Possion recovered the ball but Kaukauna did not have time to line up before the whistle blew.

MARQUETTE WALLONS CREAUGHTON, 28-0

Marquette—(P)—Marquette pounder Creaughton defense into submission here Saturday and then showed them with passes winning 28 to 0 and avenging the defeat of last year. Demolishing lead the attack scoring two touchdowns, and Delweg and Helmsch added a touchdown each, with Braden counting four goals after touchdowns.

Each score was the direct result of a pass, starting with the one which Creaughton stood juggling on Tom's goal line and the first score to a longish affair which scored the last six points. Creaughton could not get going and never seriously threatened.

KIPKE, PAGE ON TRAIN WITH BLUES

Pat Page coach at Butler and Harry Kipke, last year's sensation of the Michigan football team were among the passengers on the train bringing the Lawrence football team down from St. Paul Sunday morning. Both men had been scouting the Minnesota-Victorian game and as they passed through the Blue and White Pullman from the diner Saturday evening sat down and talked with Coach Catlin for several minutes. Page is an old Chicago man, as is the Blue mentor.

SATURDAY'S GAMES
LAWRENCE 12, HAMLINE 0.
Cornell 7, Knox 6.
Beloit 16, Coe 7.
Carroll 20, Northwestern 0 (Little Five)

Beloit and Cornell colleges turned in wins Saturday afternoon over Midwest conference foes to keep on top of the Little Nine race and even with Monmouth which has played but one game and won it, Monmouth still has two Midwest games with top-notchers, Knox and Cornell and one of these probably will put her out of the running. Beloit had easy picking with Coe only conquerer of Lawrence but Cornell was in luck in beating Bill Senn and his crew by a single point.

Lawrence easily beat Hamline and so remained right in the trial of the leaders with still a chance of getting into a tie for the title in case of an upset. The Blues play one more game with a conference leader, Beloit, here in two weeks. Carroll ran up a score of 20-0 on Northwestern the first half of a Little Five conference game and then took it easy to avoid the attentions of Lawrence scouts.

Galesburg—Cornell's forward passing attack and line bucking combination proved too much for Knox here Saturday afternoon, and the Iowa visitors won, 7 to 6. Green scored for Cornell on line plays after a long pass. Capt. Bill Senn provided the thrill of the day by recovering Crabtree's fumble and running 65 yards for Knox's touchdowns. He failed to make extra point. Both scores were made in final period.

Waukegan—With a Lawrence scout on the sidelines, Carroll college contented itself Saturday in restricting its play against Northwestern college of Watertown, to simple plays, winning 20 to 0. All of the scoring was done in the first half.

Beloit—In a battle of forward passes, Beloit college defeated Coe college here Saturday 16 to 7, and retained its position as leader in the Midwest conference. It was a slippery field, but in spite of this, more than forty forward passes were launched during the afternoon and passes figured directly in all the scoring.

Coe never was dangerous, since Beloit always had a comfortable margin, but the Kobawks buried forward passes continuously in the second half, and the Beloit defense was almost run ragged.

Outstanding in the battle was the work for Beloit of Everett Purdy, 135 pound halfback, who is a Beloit sophomore and has just completed his required six months residence here. Saturday was his first game, and he figured in all the Beloit scoring.

MICHIGAN STILL TOPS BIG TEN

Chicago—Michigan still remains at the top of the heap in the Western conference, leading in points scored, without an opponent point scored against her. The Wolverines now tackle three Big Ten opponents in a row, Northwestern, Ohio and Minnesota and championship hopes at Michigan are high.

Iowa is likewise undefeated in the Big Ten this season with two victories against Michigan's three. The Hawkeyes play Wisconsin and Minnesota, then go to Los Angeles to meet Southern California on the closing day of the season.

Chicago added another conference victory over Purdue Saturday, but has a tie with Ohio State on the records. The Staggers have set an unusual record, winning two, tying one and losing a non-conference game with a total of two touchdowns and four field goals scored, while a touchdown and a field goal have been the only points scored against them.

The conference standing:

BAYS SURPRISED AT CREAM CITY BUT COP 6-0 WIN

Great Plunging of Basing, Appleton Halfback, Gives Packers Hard-fought Victory

Milwaukee—Milwaukee's Badgers, local entry in the National Pro Football league furnished the Green Bay Packers with a real surprise Sunday at Athletic park, battling with surprising determination and tackling better than any team that has ever worn the orange jerseys here. In the end, Green Bay won by the slender margin of a single touchdown, 6 to 0, but they had to fight for every inch, and only triumphed by reason of their better organization and superior offensive play.

The winners' touchdown was made in the second period. The first had been taken up largely with a punting duel between Buck and Blood, with honors about even, neither team being able to gain consistently.

Early in the second period, a succession of short gains put the visitors in position to try for a field goal, but Buck was hurried and his kick went wide for a touchdown. Forced to punt, Blood kicked to the 42 yard line and the Packers opened a savage drive with Basing, former Lawrence star, doing most of the gaining. Finally, Basing drove over left tackle for 5 yards and what proved to be the only score of the game. Buck's try for point was blocked by Brumm.

For Green Bay, Harris was the big ground gainer, aided by some neat runs by Norton. Later, Llewellyn replaced Harris and did some clever plunging.

In the fourth period, Barr began passing on almost every down, and the Badgers worked the ball deep into Bay territory, when an intercepted heave halted them.

Shortly after this Milwaukee held the Packers on their 25-yard line, forcing a punt, and Mason and Brumm broke through, blocking the kick.

Green Bay recovered the ball on their 8-yard line, but as they had failed to make their distance, Milwaukee naturally claimed the ball. Referee DeCampion, just before the punt, had called out: "Fourth down and 1 yard to gain." According to the Badger players, he explained giving the Packers the ball at this juncture by stating that it had been only third down, on the kick. Gaining as freely as they did, the Packers would hardly have kicked with a yard to go on third down. More over, his declaration of the down had been plainly heard in the stand by hundreds of persons. However, he stood his ground and the Badgers' only chance went glimmering.

PACKERS ATTACK BEST
The Packers showed a much stronger and more consistent attack than the locals and earned their victory, but the Badgers were a pleasant surprise. They showed unusual spirit for a pro team and the entire team tackled and charged beautifully. Their clean, low, tackling was exceptional and the crowd which had not expected much of a game left singing their praises. A little of that kind of football here last fall might have saved the pro game in Milwaukee.

For the winners, Basing played a slashing game, Mathys was all over the field as usual, and the only Cub Buck showed that the years have taken little toll of his football ability. He is still about the best and smartest lineman in the pro league. Marty Norton, Minneapolis flash, made some pretty gains and the entire Packer line played good ball.

WESTERN SQUADS BACK HOME AGAIN

Fresh from Wins in Battles With Eastern Foes Big Ten Teams Settle to Own Work

Chicago—(P)—Their jobs against inter-sectional foes well done, Illinois and Michigan reentered the Western conference campaign this week, the Wolverines tightening their grip on the title race top at Northwestern's expense and "Red" Garange and his merry men to upset Chicago.

The Vostmen, fresh from their 54 to 0 victory over the Navy, have both might and right of tradition on their side. Against the famous Denby Friedman, Wolverine quarterback ace and his mates, Oosterbaan, Gregory, Gilbert and Molenda, Northwestern has only Ralph "Moon" Baker whose injured ankle has kept him out of several games and slowed him up in others. Then, too there is the moral effect, of previous history which gives Michigan five and Northwestern two wins in seven games.

The fact that Grange and the Illini in downing Pennsylvania 24 to 2, turned the trick that Chicago gave to turn the previous week gives Zuppke's proteges an advantage on paper over the maroons in the coming tilt in Urbana. Illinois starts against Big Ten teams have been disastrous and this buoy up the hopes of Stagz, whose slate was kept clean by the 6-0 victory over Purdue, though marred by a tie with Ohio State.

Iowa, another undefeated team has but two more Big Ten games against Wisconsin and Minnesota which dueled to a 12-all draw Saturday. The Hawkeyes count on downing both and at least ending the season a party in a tie for the title.

Ohio and Indiana, already cast aside in the rush of leading title contenders, have the question of individ-

OCONTO FALLS CRIPPLES BEST H. S. PLAYERS

Wins Easy Victory 35 to 0 After Jillson, Ladwig and Cochrane Are Hurt

Special to Post-Crescent
New London—The Red and White high school eleven was severely crippled as well as badly beaten 35 to 0 in a grid contest at Oconto Falls Saturday. As a result the team will probably lose three of its best players for the remainder of the season.

The New London eleven, outweighed 15 pounds to the man, fought savagely through the one sided contest, coming out on the short end of the score. Oconto Falls scored its first touchdown immediately after the game started. Nevertheless, the local boys, far from being discouraged, held the northerners to a score of 7 to 0 to the end of the first half. Five minutes after the second half started the game was over as far as New London was concerned, for one Red and White warrior after another was carried off the field. Only four of the original players who started the game for New London were in the contest when it ended. Coach Koten took 18 men to Oconto Falls and was forced to use every one.

Richard "Dick" Jillson received torn ligaments and other injuries to his right leg, and now has to keep it in a cast. He is out for the remainder of the football season and a part of the basketball season. Jillson, Red and White end, was one of the mainstays of the New London team. Ladwig, at end, the heaviest and one of the best men on the squad, will probably be out for the remainder of the season with a knee injury, brought on during the game Saturday.

Cochrane at tackle, suffered injuries to his ankle, in the form of severely strained ligaments, which will undoubtedly keep him out for the rest of the football season.

Several other members of the squad who had to be taken out of the game were barely able to be about, having been badly bruised and shaken up.

The Oconto Falls team can probably be called the "toughest" aggregation which the Red and White have ever run up against.

New London is scheduled to play Clintonville Tuesday. About the only thing left to play with providing the game is not called off, will be the second team. This leaves New London's chances for beating Clintonville slight.

Indiana made a good showing Saturday against Northwestern, while the Buckeyes shut out Wooster, always a threat.

Minnesota has a breathing spell before it tackles Iowa and Michigan in the game with Butler in Minneapolis. Notre Dame, the county's greatest traveling team has only a few days rest after its return from downing Georgia Tech, 13 to 0, in Atlanta, before it entrains for State College, Pennsylvania and the waiting Penn State.

The game is the first for 12 years.

Dave's Dots And Dashes

As one of the "bleacher gang" remarked Saturday "There's another candidate for Notre Dame." He was talking about the sensational work of one Capt. Dave Zuidmaier, leader of the East Green Bay high gridlers who has yet to be stopped by a prep squad in two years of hard competition. Teams have built special defenses for the boy but he outthinks them all, changing his style to beat them, and nothing can stop him. He is one of the best backs we have ever seen in action in a high school and undoubtedly would go good at the South Bend school. We saw Jimmy Crowley when he was in his prep school prime and we can frankly say that Zuidmaier looked better Saturday than Jim looked in high school, and mean no discredit to the famous Horsenan. But then Jim played against much stronger teams than Appleton was Saturday.

Coach Bill Smith and his Kaukauna Tigers played their game Saturday at 1:30 and then attended the Appleton-East high game in a body. Bill sure got an eyeful, but it was all Zuidmaier and not much Appleton so he won't have much to tell him Saturday. However, with the Bay looking bad and there Appleton got it, Eddie Friemiers, regular quarter was hurt early in the year, and a backfield shift sent a fullback to the pilot job and a green sub end to half. Saturday, the sub end at half, Ed Hamner, dislocated a shoulder. The only hope for Appleton now is the return of Friemiers. Eddie had a broken collar bone but he may be able to call signals and keep out of the scrimmage, sending Kitzinger to fill Friemiers' job. Ed Steens played Saturday's game with a bad heel, which now is worse and Bob Packard, a tackle, has a bad leg injury.

Lawrence failed to show much class at Hamline Saturday, against a crippled squad. Looks like even the most optimistic can only hope for a tie with Carroll and a drubbing from Beloit's speed boys. Beloit discovered a new sensation Saturday in Purdy, 135-pound halfback, just eligible by the residence rule. He went big at end running and passing. We have a hunch that the boy is one Pidge Pudry, the best quarterback in Nebraska a few years back while at Beatrice high. The boy beat one of the best Appleton high teams almost singlehanded at Beatrice by a big score and with ten lettermen out almost did the trick again here the next year. If it is the same man, Lawrence look out! Briese, Blue captain, Zussman and Stark have played against the boy before—ask them about him, don't take our word for it.

Kaukauna is all pepped up with hopes to beat Appleton because of Saturday's game here and they sure have a right to be. The Orange may get a surprise Saturday if the Kaws are going good. Right now with a bunch of cripples and after the ter-

POTATOES SOAR $1.50 IN TEN DAYS' TIME

Neenah—Potatoes have reached their high mark in local markets by selling for $2.50 a bushel. Just ten days ago they could be purchased for $1 a bushel. A scarcity of the tubers is given by the storekeepers as the cause for the $1.50 rise in that length of time.

Neenah—A meeting of Winnebago Bankers association is scheduled for Wednesday evening in Hotel Menasha. A 6.30 dinner will be served after which a business session will be held followed by a talk by J. A. Karel of Milwaukee, president of Wisconsin Bankers association.

SHOTGUN CHARGE HITS YOUNG HUNTER IN FACE

HIGH SCHOOL WORKS ON HOMECOMING GAME

Work on the "homecoming" football battle between Kaukauna and Appleton high schools here Saturday afternoon was started in earnest Monday at the local school when every committee in charge of the various phases of the affair held meetings.

The committees were chosen by the student council from the student body last week.

A group of high school girls are working on a marching drill which will be presented between halves of the game. F. A. McCloskey is in charge of the work. Pep sessions will be held on Wednesday and on Friday night. A huge torchlight parade will follow Friday night's meeting. Tickets will be placed on sale at all of the junior high schools in the same manner as usual. At least 500 rooters are expected from Kaukauna for the big game.

M'MILLEN KEPT FROM POLE DASH BY FROZEN FEET

Accompanied Peary on Expedition but Was Unable to Finish With Him

Chicago—(AP)—An indelible spirit of optimism together with a confidence in himself which has its reaction in all members of his party, are characteristics which have brought Donald D. MacMillan through many a "jam" and otherwise, and which figured strongly in obtaining for him two modern assets to his recent Arctic expedition—airplanes and radio.

These qualities, supplemented with knowledge and experience of a region in which he has explored for 17 years, first impressed MacMillan's chief of radio, Eugene F. McDonald, Jr., who also on this trip was second in command and in charge of the Peary, one of the two ships. When McDonald had been "sold," he went with MacMillan through official Washington in quest of air service cooperation, resulting in Secretary Wilbur assigning three planes and personnel and approving the expedition for its "sound, safe planning."

MacMillan is a professor of anthropology at Bowdoin College, his alma mater, on leave of absence. It was at Bowdoin, where he figured 17 cents a day was sufficient to live on while he educated himself, that he first came in contact with Admiral Peary, of whom he is a great student and admirer. MacMillan was with the Peary expedition in 1908 which discovered the North Pole, solely because of their college association. MacMillan's first ship on his own account was purchased with funds raised by his college chums and was named the Peary. MacMillan is unmarried.

When Peary discovered the pole, MacMillan was left behind on the final dash because his feet were frozen and the warmth from Peary's naked chest had failed to aid in thawing them. MacMillan had neglected to line his boots with grass. On two nights, Peary opened his garments and slept with MacMillan's feet on his chest. But it was of no avail. Peary then took with him a negro, Matt Honson, who was a man described as of physical perfection and of an exceptional ability in relations with the Eskimos. Peary to this day is the only white man to have visited the pole.

MacMillan became a lieutenant commander in the U. S. Naval reserve on last February 7, shortly after becoming 51 years of age. He was born the son of a sea captain, in Provincetown.

WANT HEARING ON BANK STOCK CASE ADVANCED

Milwaukee—(AP)—Application to advance the hearing of the appeal of the Hartford bank case, involving the right of the state to tax bank stock, has been made by Wisconsin attorneys of the United States Supreme court, it was announced Monday by the Wisconsin Bankers' association.

If the request is granted the case probably will be heard before Jan. 1. Meanwhile, the association is urging all banks to protect their rights to recover for taxes paid in 1924 if the decision in the Hartford case is favorable.

The Wisconsin supreme court up held the tax of bank stock by the state on a personal property basis and the appeal to the United States supreme court was taken from this decision.

Madison—(AP)—Attorney General Horn in L. Eiken issued a statement Monday in which he declared that western railroads at the recent hearings before the interstate commerce commission "overplayed their hand."

Attorney General Eiken appeared before the interstate commerce commission in behalf of the state of Wisconsin, to protest against a proposed 5 percent increase in freight rates.

"The railroads have wholly failed to make a case for the 5 per cent increase in freight rates they are now demanding," said Mr. Eiken. In attempting to show the great prosperity of the farmer to justify increasing his freight rates, the railroads overplayed their hand with such glowing estimates of increasing business as to make the rate-increasing wholly unjustifiable.

Chicago—Automobile deaths in 11 central western states went above 100 hundred last week after registering below that mark for several previous weeks. The total was 112 with Ohio leading with 31 fatalities. There were 12 deaths in Illinois, 14 in Indiana, 13 in Minnesota and 12 in Missouri. Other states were Iowa and Michigan, 5 each; Oklahoma 7, Kansas 3 and North Dakota and Texas 1 each.

Climbs Flag Pole.
Jack, the human fly had nothing on a member of one of the manual training classes of Appleton high school Monday morning. A new rope for the school flagpole was purchased and one of the boys "climbed" up to the top of the pole to install it. The first time the rope would not fit the hole at the top of the pole and the boy was required to go through his act twice before he finished his work.

Mass. He later became an orphan and was reared by a strange family. He was graduated from Bowdoin in 1898 with the degree of bachelor of arts. Much of his revenue came from employment in summer hotels, doing every sort of job.

After the memorable trip with Peary in 1908, MacMillan made a second trip to northern Labrador in 1910 to which he again returned in 1911 and 1912. Bowdoin college in 1910 honored him with a degree of Master of Arts. In 1913, he headed the Crocker Land expedition, intending to be in the Arctic one year. He returned four years later. It was on this expedition that he proved his generalship as an Arctic explorer, when, short of provisions, he fed his men for nearly three years on the food of the Eskimo and brought his men out in better condition than when they started.

Bowdoin college tendered MacMillan the degree of Doctor of Science in 1918. He headed the Hudson Bay expedition in 1921, the Peary land expedition in 1921 and 1922 and the North Greenland expedition during 1923 and 1924.

COUNTY'S SHARE OF 1925 STATE TAX IS $30,134

State's Share of General Property Tax Will Not Be Collected This Year

The state will collect $50,134.13 from Outagamie county this year to help pay for the care of unfortunate and criminals, and for other state charges, Secretary of State Fred R. Zimmerman has announced. The total amount to be paid to the state by counties for this purpose is $2,298,821. The secretary of state has prepared the figures for certification to the individual counties Monday.

The amounts which nearby counties will pay, are:

Brown, $57,813.54; Calumet, $13,048.44; Dane, $124,919.57; Fond du Lac, $80,697.54; Leland, $68,555.35; Manitowish, $25,358.89; Milwaukee, $128,245.50; Oshkosh, $30,134.13; Sheboygan, $33,096.29; Waupaca, $47,137.21; Winnebago, $30,301.41.

In past years the charges were certified with the state tax levies. This year the state's share of general property taxes will not be levied, due to the remission recently announced by Governor Blaine.

County authorities will be notified of the remission of the state's share of general taxes when the charges are certified, Mr. Zimmerman said.

The remission included $6,442,191 for educational purposes, as follows: $2,006,423 for the university, $591,743 for the normal schools, and $3,844,025 for common schools. The money for educational purposes will come from the income tax and from the surplus in the state treasury.

One Automobile For Every 5.5 Persons In Appleton

Eighteen per cent of the people of Appleton own automobiles, according to computations based on 1925 assessment figures of Albert C. Rule, city assessor, and the latest population estimate of the United States census bureau. In other words, there is one car for every 5.5 persons in the city. These conclusions are based on Mr. Rule's assessment of 3,391 automobiles and the census bureau's estimate of 22,000 as the population of the city.

The number of automobile owners in Appleton has been increasing at a rapid rate, an examination of assessment figures for the past four years shows.

Figuring the population of Appleton as 22,000 during this time 13 per cent of the people owned cars in 1921, 10 per cent in 1923, 7 per cent in 1922 and only 6 per cent in 1921.

Thus it is evident that 5 per cent more people in Appleton own cars this

INDIAN GIRLS BRING QUARREL INTO COURT

Because of insufficient evidence the assault and battery charge brought by Mary Wheelock and Josephine Wheelock, Oneida Indian girls against Naomi Cornelius and Sarah Cornelius, also of Oneida, was dismissed by Judge Theodore Berg Saturday morning. The alleged assault is said to have taken place on Aug. 30 when the Wheelock sisters and the Cornelius sisters were returning from a church service. A free-for-all fight is alleged to have followed in which the four girls took part and received minor injuries. It is said that petty jealousies have existed between the two families for some time. The fight was started by the girls calling each other names, and making slurring remarks to one another.

After Others Fail Don't Give Up!
HE who hesitates is lost an old saying, but true, and it has kept many people invalids all their lives. If they had taken their case in its infancy and treated it as if they meant business, they would have averted that operation, its after effects, and the large fee of the surgeon. Not only in health, but the man who has always stayed in the hole and dared not venture out has never made a fortune. The step must be taken if you accomplish good health or wealth.

If you have Rheumatism, Lumbago, Piles, Gout, Appendicitis, Gallstones, Stomach, Bowel, Skin Trouble, as Eczema, Pimples, Black Heads and Psoriasis, Kidney, Bladder, burning and frequent, Liver, Indigestion, Flatulence, Sour Eructations, Heart Burn, Constipation, Catarrhal conditions of the bowels, Nervous Headache, all in feeling, cannot sleep, Chronic, Blood and Female Troubles.

HALF GALLON ALCOHOL ENOUGH FOR CARS NOW

Alcohol and other solutions to keep automobile radiators from freezing have been sold in large quantities during the last week at Appleton garages. There have also been numerous cases where car owners continued to give their radiators water to drink instead of the "stronger stuff" which a radiator craves as a bracer in cold weather. Most of the radiators treated in this manner have frozen up during the present cold spell, and their owners will probably know better next time.

On the smaller makes of cars about a half a gallon of alcohol or other non-freeze preparation is sufficient to keep a radiator in good order in the kind of weather Appleton has experienced during the week. Larger cars should use from three-quarters to a gallon of alcohol. In midwinter temperatures of zero or below smaller cars should have about a gallon of alcohol and the larger makes at least a gallon and a half.
